JV 'A' To Use Same Plays As Varsity To Unify Coaching

who originally reported for JV A, 42 are linemen. According to Mr. Peterson, the line is doing a fine job so far. It seems to be shaping up well, and the spirit appears to be good. At this point, the best prospects for the ends are Bud Larson, from last year's JV B, and "Tink" Thompson. This may be altered, however, with the boys still coming down from varsity. Scotty Warner, Mike Kohler, "Bark" Hickox, and John Fisk seem to be holding down the tackle positions pretty well. At guard, the best candidates so far seem to be Jim Gale, Hector Valencia, Bill Steubenbord, and Dick Carlson, the last two up from the 1951 JV B. Tom Burnett, returning from last years JV A, and Sam Smith are holding down the center position pretty tightly.

Should Beat Exeter

At the moment, Frank Palumbo, Jay Wilson, and Al Blanchard are running neck and neck for the quarterback spot, although Mr. Harrison is seriously considering switching Blanchard to halfback because of his running ability. Returning fullback Warren Clein will probably start, with Jack Donovan behind him. Competing for right half are Bill Berkowitz, Bill Bride, and Rog Donald. Left half is covered by Mill Ryan, Jim Catlett, and Quincy Ascyue. Web Otis, held back until now by a broken arm, will report next week.

The outlook for the Exeter game is very good, as we have beaten them for 3 consecutive years. Last year the JV A beat Exeter's second string varsity.

Strong Line; Many Lettermen Return

Contrary to the posted schedule, the JV "A" football squad will play its first game on October 11. Since the varsity is playing Wesleyan away, the JV's will play Keith Academy on the main field. They will play a total of six games this year, winding up the season with the Exeter game, at Exeter.

Varsity Techniques

An innovation this year is that both JV teams are using the same plays as the varsity. The reason for this is that if the coaches on the varsity feel that a JV player is good enough to play varsity ball, even though he may have been cut, he can be brought up to the varsity and be played immediately, without having to be taught a whole new set of rules. Another change this year, though not yet definite, may be the switching of club football from 6 to 11-man ball. Club will also use the same plays as the JV and the varsity, if the change is accepted and they switch to using 11 men. Equipment for all boys out for football, although scarce now, will be issued this year.

Strong Line

The line is reportedly very strong this year. Of the 80 men

JV A's Lose First Game Of Year To Howe High, 26-12

A powerful Howe High Varsity handed the Blue JV A's their first defeat of the season last Wednesday. Lashing the Blue with an effective passing attack, the Green scored enough in the first half to win the game. Jim Catlett scored twice for P.A. in the 26-12 setback.

EFFECTIVE HOWE PASSING

Bill Sayad ran Howe High's kickoff back to the Andover 40. The Blue, however, could not get the ball moving, and on the fourth down was forced to kick. Howe High then took over on their own 22. On a pass play the Green moved the ball to the Andover 40. Here the Blue took over after the Howe offensive bogged down. On the next play, Sayad ran 26 yards around end to the Howe 34, but a fumble on the following play gave Howe the ball on their own 35. The next play Howe scored, going the distance on a combination pass and run play. The try for the extra point was good, and Howe led 7-0.

Sayad ran Howe High's kickoff back to the Andover 34. On the next several plays there were two penalities against the Blue for clipping, and although Catlett, Mal Dole, and Sayad made several substantial gains, the Blue was forced to kick. Howe then took the ball on the Andover 40, and on first down moved 12 yards to the 28. The quarter ended several moments later, with the ball on the Blue 25.

BLUE OFFENSE IMPROVES

To open the second quarter, Howe completed a pass for nine yards. Several plays later, the Green passed into the end zone for the visitors' second score. The extra point was good.

Bud Larson ran back the third Howe High kickoff to the Andover 36. Dole and Warren Clein then combined efforts to move the ball to the Blue 48. On the next play, Howe intercepted an Andover score, and ran it all the way for a third Green score.

Larsen ran the Howe kickoff to the Andover 31. The Blue offensive, however, could not get under way, and time ran out several moments later with the ball on the Andover 36.

To start things off in the second half, Howe High ran back the Andover kickoff to the Green 44. The Blue defense held, however, and Howe was forced to kick, but after several plays, took over again. Six plays later, Howe scored their final touchdown of the day. The try for extra point failed.

Dole ran the Howe High kickoff back to the Andover 43. On the next play, Sayad plowed through 18 yards to the Green 39. Catlett finished off the drive with a 39-yard dash to the end zone. Bride's kick was not good.

TOUCHDOWN PASS

Howe High could not move the ball after the Andover kickoff and was forced to punt. The Blue was also forced to punt several plays later, and Howe took the ball on the Andover 42. On the first down Howe threw a long pass and Bill Berkowitz intercepted on the Andover 15. On the next play, Quincy Ayscue passed to Catlett, who ran all the way for the second Blue score. Again the extra point was not good.

In the last minutes of the game, Andover was not able to score again, despite the efforts of Clein and Ayscue on offense, and of Bob Cummings, Nubie Leroy, Web Otis and Hector Valencia to prevent Howe High from controlling the ball. The final score of the game was Andover 12, Howe High 26.

Alumni Beat Basketball Team 75-62 In New Gym's Initial Contest; H. Smith Scores 20

By Larry Sears

In the first athletic contest held in the new Memorial Gym, the varsity basketball team lost to a group of eleven Andover alumni, who defeated the Blue hoopsters, 75-62.

Fourth Period Drive

The Blue were outscored by only one point in the last two periods, and they showed more drive and aggressiveness as they outplayed their opponents in the final 10 minutes. Dave Christenson and Fred Williams both saw action in the latter part of the game as Smith, Schuyler, Palumbo, Heimer, and Hudner launched a fourth-period drive in an attempt to close the fourteen point-gap. This fight was of no avail, however, as the Alumni froze the ball in the latter minutes to sew up the game as the final score read 75-62.

Individual scoring honors went to Upper Hort Smith who poured in 20 points, and to Tom Raleigh, who contributed 18 to the Alumni cause. Frank Palumbo, another Upper, scored ten of his thirteen points on long accurate sets. In basket shooting the Alumni led, 35 baskets to 28 for P.A., while in foul shots the Alumni made five out of fifteen and the home team converted six out of twenty-one. Only two Andover players didn't get into the scoring column as Coach DiClemente cleared nearly his whole bench.

Luminaries Return

Such noted stars as Tom Raleigh, Hal Upjohn, Brought Bishop, Bill Prior, and Terry Buchanan came back on December 6 to exhibit their talents to all the Andover students who never had a chance to see them play at either prep school or college. Accompanying these five were "Dixie" Bell, Eddie Ryan, "Bo" Polk, Ray Brown, Bill Oliver, and "Bing" Crosby. The first four, Raleigh, Upjohn, Bishop, and Prior all belonged to the '45 team which was supposedly one of Coach DiClemente's best. Bishop captained that team. Raleigh holds the P.A. game scoring record with 36 points and also the season record for total points. Upjohn went on to captain the successful '46 team, while Bill Prior attended Harvard, where he captained their '49 squad.

Alumni Score First

The Alumni, who were never headed after the second minute of play, when the score was 5-5, started Raleigh and Crosby at the forwards, Prior, who stood 6'6", at center, and Bishop and Oliver at the guards. For the Blue, it was Frank Palumbo and Hort Smith at the forward positions, Carl Hoffman and Capt. Randy Heimer at the guards, and George Schuyler at center. The tap-off immediately went to Raleigh who scored on a lay-up. Schuyler scored on a foul shot but Bing Crosby kept the Alumni ahead with two points. After Hoffman and Raleigh matched baskets, Frank Palumbo swished a long set shot to tie the score. This was the last time the P.A. grads were to see their lead in danger.

Heimer Leads Basketball Team Against Huntington

With one practice game behind them, the varsity basketball team, led by Randy Heimer, played its first game of the regular season yesterday.

Huntington became the squad's first scheduled rival at 4:00 p. m. yesterday afternoon. Always a formidable visitor, Huntington came out on top last year by a 59-58 score. 56

Coach DiClemente's team, feeling sharply the absence of three top players, fared well against the Crimson last December for two periods but came out on the short end of the score. How much improvement has been made since then will be shown today and on Saturday against the Tufts Freshmen, 82-59 victors last year.

Captain Randy Heimer, injured for a short while but now back in action, will start at a forward spot. Heimer was one of last year's more effective performers up front, and his 6'2" frame should come in handy under the boards.

At another forward is big 6'1" Carl Hoffman, an experienced player. Hoffman possesses a valuable left-handed shot from underneath besides an accurate shot from outside. Carl possesses drive and speed, breaking quickly around the pivot man for close-up shots.

In the center is George Schuyler, tall red-head from Syracuse, N. Y. Schuyler is accurate with his set shot as well as a hook. His rebounding strength should make him a valuable asset.

Like Hoffman, Hort Smith co-captain elect of football, has great drive at the left-guard position. In practice he has managed to break through often from outside to score on layups. His one handed push shot should make him one of the team's top performers. Last year as a lower, Smith started often and since then has improved tremendously.

Either of two small men, Pete

Basketball

Capra and Frank Palumbo, should fill the remaining starting berth. The one not starting will, however, see a great deal of action since both have played good ball. Palumbo is a diminutive New Yorker with considerable experience and he is an excellent ball-handler. Also adroit at a set shot, Palumbo gets in for an occasional layup. Capra played often last year, and thus far has proved himself a fine dribbler and an excellent defensive player.

Phil Hudner, who often started last year, will see a lot of action as a utility player. Phil is an experienced ball-handler with an accurate one handed push shot.

Fred Williams, one of the 3 J.V. captains of last year, should see action at a guard spot. Dave Bowman, Dave Christenson and Marty Davis will also play, along with forward and center Pete Jenkins, a promising upper.

The loss at center of 6'5" Hayes Clement and 6'2" Bill Agee, both out for four or five weeks, will be sorely felt. However, this lack of height will be compensated for by drive and speed, both old DiClemente slogans from the soccer field.

Switching from early practice on the "screen", Coach DiClemente has worked on his fast break and has also placed some emphasis on a number of basic patterns of breaking and cutting. Hoffman and Heimer, crossing across the keyhole from a forward spot, should be able to break in to score considerably.

After the Tufts game, encounters with Worcester, Dartmouth, and Tabor, New Hampton, Lawrence Academy, Yale, Tilton, M.I.T., Harvard, U. of New Hampshire, Amherst and Exeter follow.

Blue Squeaks By Huntington; Smith Scores 20 Points In A 59-56 Opening Game Victory

In their 1953 opener, the Andover basketball team defeated Huntington 59-56. Hort Smith led in scoring with 20 points, but the whole team played well in avenging last years 59-58 loss.

The game was played with only two P.A. substitutions, but the first team of forwards Hoffman and Schuyler, guards Smith and Williams, and center Heimer needed no assistance.

The early course of the game gave hope that Andover might make a runaway of it, for midway in the first quarter, P.A. led 12-4. Huntington scored first, but then Smith and Williams dropped in a couple of two-pointers, and a few minutes later Smith scored again on a smooth lay-up after racing the length of the court. At the middle of the quarter, Williams tallied again to make the score 12-4. But at this poin Huntington broke loose and sceored ten points while P.A. could only muster four scores by Smith and Schuyler. At the end of the quarter, Schuyler was fouled, and he made good to end the period 17-14 for the Blue.

At the very start of the second quarter, Huntington tied the score, but P.A. broke the tie seconds later on a basket by Heimer and a free throw by Smith. At this point Schuyler met with a slight accident, his pants split along the seams, and "Red" retired to the lockers to get a new pair. From here to the last few minutes of the quarter, the teams matched baskets, but, with the score 28-22 for P.A. Huntington scored thre quick points to take a 30128 halftime lead.

During the third quarter the play was very even as P.A. outscored the opposition 16-14 to tie the score at 44 all at the end of the period. During this quarter both teams showed off their respective strong points. Huntington scored with uncanny accuracy at the foul line and with their long set shots. P.A. was not outstanding at the foul line, although Fred Williams and Capt. Heimer did show a high degree of accuracy, but the Blue won on their lay-ups and sets from close up. Hort Smith led in the lay-up department, aften bringing the crowd to its feet with his smooth manouvers under the basket.

The fourth quarter was filled with excitement. Schuyler, Smith, and Williams scored in rapid succession, and Andover fans sat back and relaxed. However, Huntington put on a burst of speed and outscored Andover 10-4, tying the score with just a few minutes left. Then, as in the third quarter, Hort Smith broke it up on a beautiful lay-up, and seconds later flipped in two free tosses to put the Blue four points in front. Huntington fought back desperately and made the score 58-56. Then a big Huntington forward, who had not missed a foul shot all game, got two free throws with fifty seconds left. Fans relaxed when he missed both, and Andover took possession of the ball and stalled. Fred Williams was fouled and calmly proceeded to clinch it for P.A. as he made the score 59-56. It was too late for any Huntington rally, and the game ended with a Huntington player missing a lay-up.

Schuyler, H. Smith Pace Basketball Team To 71-48 Win Over Tufts Freshmen

The Andover Varsity Basketball team registered its second win in as many games by routing the Tufts Freshmen last Saturday, 71-48. Four players returning from last year's team, which took a 82-59 licking from Tufts, had a hand in avenging the defeat.

Two preps, George Schuyler and Carl Hoffman, and veteran Hort Smith, however, sparked the Blue to victory. Tufts entered the game with a record of 1 win and four losses.

The game started slowly, with the ball changing hands frequently, but there was no scoring. After two minutes had passed, Schuyler sunk a foul shot to give P.A. a lead which they never relinquished throughout the contest. With Hoffman, Fred Williams, and Hort Smith continually stealing the ball from the Frosh, and Captain Randy Heimer and Schuyler controlling the boards for the Blue, Andover kept Tufts from being a serious threat at any time. The first quarter ended with Andover ahead, 15-10.

The Blue, paced by Schuyler, quickly widened their lead to 23-14 as the second period progressed. The Frosh, however, led by "Mickey" McMahon, came within two points of tying the Andover quintet, but the shooting of Schuyler and Hoffman kept P.A. in the lead. Andover held a slim 32-29 margin at half-time.

Early in the second half, Tufts began to guard the Blue more closely and came within one point of catching the Andover five.. Six quick points by Schuyler and Hoffman ended that threat. Hort Smith, who seemed to be having a bad day in the first half, scored on two successivve fast breaks, bringing the score to 49-39 at the close of the third period.

What had been a close game for three periods, broke wide open in the final quarter. With Heimer grabbing rebounds and scoring on fine shots, the Blue raced to a 55-41 lead. Tufts shortened the margin a bit, but the improved Smith and Heimer went on scoring sprees and widened the lead to 21 points. Tufts was fighting desperately, but William's fine all-around play and Heimer's and Smith's shooting prevented the Frosh from cutting P. A.'s big lead. While the crowd was begging to team to break the seventy mark, Schuyler missed a foul shot, but Phil Hudner got the rebound and scored to bring the final score to 71-48.

McMahon copped the scoring honors for the game with 22 points. Schuyler scored 21 for Andover. Three other players scored in the double figures for P.A., Smith with 17, and Hoffman and Heimer each with 13.

Basketball Loses To Worcester Quintet On Wed.

Blue Starts Well

In the opening moments of the game, Andover took possession of the ball. George Schuyler scored from the foul line. Worcester quickly retaliated with a one-pointer. Seconds later Hort Smith scored on a set shot, and was followed by a Schuyler jump shot. The Redmen quickly closed the gap by scoring on two quick baskets, and a pair of foul shots. Smith scored on a long set, but Worcester came right back with a basket. It looked as though the Blue might have a field day when Frank Palumbo, Schuyer, and Smith scored almost in succession on a layup and two jump shots.

Andover Offense Lags

Worcester began to pull away from the Blue at the end of the quarter, however, and when the buzzer sounded the score stood 14-22 in favor of the Red.

To start things off in the second quarter, Worcester took the ball and quickly scored. Schuyler then hit for two on a jump shot.

Blue Defense Poor

Then the Andover defense fell apart, and Worcester went on a scoring spree. Before the Blue knew what had hit it the score was 16-34. Captain Randy Heimer's score on a rebound helped spark the team. Moments later Smith scored on a jump shot, and Palumbo swished a set shot. Worcester did not remain idle, however, and by the end of the period, the score read 39-22 in favor of Worcester.

The second half started with Worcester in possession. The Red then came through with four quick baskets before Smith scored on a set shot and Heimer sank a foul. Carl Hoffman's two-pointer, and Smith's jump shot came between several more Worcester baskets. Worcester's fast break was having a disastrous effect on the Blue defense. Schuyler's jump shot, followed by a one-pointer from the foul line, boosted the Blue score, but Worcester moved farther ahead to make the score 70-36.

In the last half of the fourth quarter the blue offense improved somewhat, but it was too late. Three baskets by Fred Williams, one by Palumbo, and another by Phil Hudner could not help the Blue cause, and the final score read Worcester 78, Andover 49.

Dekemen Succumb To Dartmouth At Hanover Sat., 71-57; Schuyler High-Scorer For Andover With 19

The Andover varsity basketball team outplayed their Dartmouth rivals in the final half of Saturday's game but were unable to catch up with an overly-accurate freshman team, losing, 71-57.

Andover jumped to a quick 5-2 advantage on a free throw by Hoffman and two one-handers by Schuyler. Strauss and Minely, who was to be high man for the Green with 17 points, proceeded in the scoring after a shot by Schuyler which tied the game at 8-8. Nelson scored for the Green on a hook, but Randy Heimer evened it up with a jump shot. Nelson, a tall blond center, scored again to put the home team in front at the period's end.

Hoffman tied things up with a layup to open the second frame, but after shots by Schuyler the Freshmen forged ahead to 17-25 as the half ended. At this point both Smith and Heimer had received three personal fouls, curtailing Andover's scoring punch greatly; the Blue team scored a mere seven points in the second frame, reaching a new low for this season.

Although a number of bad breaks which fell to the advantage of the Green kept the Blue behind at the half, 17-25, Andover was able to regain control of its game long enough to bring the count to 27-34 and 45-51 in the third and fourth quarters, respectively.

Carl Hoffman played one of his top games of the season, scoring 17 points as second high man for Andover. His driving layup shots were excellent, and it was his shooting which brought the team within six points in the fourth quarter. George Schuyler was top man for Andover in scoring as he registered 19 points. Schuyler's combination of jump shots, sets, and hooks kept the P.A. team in the running throughout the first half. Schuyler scored ten points in this frame.

A remark by a Dartmouth player that the Freshmen "played their best game of the season" was justified at the start of the second half. The Green jumped into a fast 32-17 lead on shots by Minely, Julian, and Nelson. P.A., beginning the slow process of catching their rivals, drew within seven points at 27-34. Hort Smith scored his first basket of the night,, followed by a short one by Schuyler, a one-hander by Hoffman, and three more shots by Smith and Hoffman. The quarter ended with P.A. on the short end of a 37-47 count.

Starting guard Fred Williams sank a free throw and Frank Palumbo hit on a set shot to pull the count up to 41-49. Heimer dunked a free throw, Schuyler did likewise and followed with a set to narrow the score down to 45-51, a six point disadvantage which P.A. was never to overcome. Hoffman and Schuyler scored for Andover and Minely hit for Dartmouth as the game came to a feverish conclusion. Minely scored 3 times in succession on driving lay-ups, but Smith and Hoffman, retaliated for Andover. Minely, suddenly "hot", and big Nelson, amazingly accurate on his hook shots, scored twice each as Dartmouth pulled away. Williams scored the evening's final basket as the visitors from P.A. absorbed their second defeat this season, 71-57.

Varsity Basketball Wins Over Lawrence Academy 86-62

In a fast and wide-open ball game, the Andover varsity basketball team trimmed Lawrence Academy, 86-62, on Wednesday, February 4. After trailing at halftime, Andover put on a tremendous third-quarter surge to win going away. This victory, Andover's fifth of the season, was especially significant because this same Lawrence team had recently topped Exeter, 65-47.

HEIMER SCORES FIRST

The first quarter play, like that throughout the game, was marked with spots of brilliance and sound fast-break basketball. In the first half, however, Andover was erratic and failed to show its true form. The scoring was opened with a jump shot by Heimer, quickly followed by a free throw for each team. Lawrence spurted into the lead with the aid of some remarkable shooting by their guards.

LAWRENCE SPREE

Hort Smith came back with his first two points on a driving lay-up and Heimer tapped in his second field goal. Lawrence scored a flurry of points, but the Blue matched these with Williams' jump shot and a lay-up and tap by Hort. Finally, Heimer passed to Williams for an easy two more to give P.A. a slim 18-15 lead at the quarter.

Lawrence scored eight consecutive points in the opening minutes of the second period before Pete Jenkins tallied on a hook. Another six markers for the opposition were followed by Heimer's field goal alone, and Andover was on the short end of a 29-22 score. Jump shots by Smith and Heimer in close succession had narrowed the margin to three when Ferguson of Lawrence hurt his ankle severely and had to be carried from the floor.

Lawrence came back with two free throws and a hook, but a lay-up by Smith closed the gap to 28-33 at halftime.

REVIVAL

Obviously an entirely rejuvenated team, Andover started the second half in spectacular fashion. Carl Hoffman drove toward the basket and scored on a hook. Then, after Smith intercepted a pass, Fred Williams broke down-court and countered on a lay-up. In the midst of the next play, George Schuyler and a Lawrence man ran into each other. The referees called a double foul, and Andover tied the score at 33-33 when George made his shot and the Lawrence player missed. Williams tallied from underneath, and after a Lawrence free throw, Schuyler tapped in a missed foul shot. Then, on one of the best plays of the game, Hoffman scored via a lay-up to culminate an Andover fast break. Smith added two with a jump one-hander from fifteen feet, and Schuyler proceeded to score four more points. Field goals by Hoffman and Smith sandwiched a free toss by Williams, and Lawrence was forced to call time out, losing by 35-50.

When play resumed, Lawrence made their first basket of the quarter. Hoffman and Schuyler added free throws, and George then sank a hook from just inside the foul line. Lawrence scored twice more, but a hook by Heimer to end the third period scoring brought the total to 57-41 with Andover leading. The Blue had scored twenty-nine points in that quarter, or more than their entire first half total.

HEIMER HURT

The final period was dominated by Andover in much the same way. After a Lawrence point, Schuyler flipped in a push shot. Hort Smith, high man in the game with nineteen points, tallied on a lay-up, and Heimer tapped in a rebound. After scores by both teams, the scoreboard read 64-45, favor of Andover. On the very next play, Heimer suffered an injury when he collid d on a jump ball with "Tiny", a 50-pound reserve center for Lawrence. He was assisted to the sidelines and given a round of applause.

The contest continued with Hoffman scoring immediately. His lay-up was matched by a Lawrence push shot. About a minute later, Schuyler scored on a driving lay-up, but in so doing committed his fifth personal foul and had to leave the game. The teams traded baskets and free throws until the score read 82-53; Jenkins and Christenson each scored once, and Capra made seven straight points. From here on, Lawrence began to score more frequently, but Phil Hudner sank two field goals to raise Andover's final margin of victory to 86-62.

Eli Freshmen; Top Andover Hoopmen

Powerful Eli Quintet Scores Victory; Heimer Outstanding As Blue Drops Third Decision

By Pete Mohr

When he was asked to comment on the caliber of his team in a pre-game interview, Yale Freshmen basketball coach Tom Vogt remarked, "It certainly isn't a good team," and then added, "I'll take a one point win without playing a game at all."

There were many people in the capacity crowd which packed Memorial Gym for the last athletic contest of the day who disagree with the Yale mentor, after watching the Eli frosh soundly whip a fighting Andover team by the score of 84-47. Most spectators, which included a large number of P. A. alumni, felt that the Blue was simply outcluassed by a superior five. However, credit must be given to an Andover team which scrapped all the way, and, during the opening quarter, played brilliantly. Led by the ball-hadling wizardry of Ellsworth Morgan, and the deadly shooting eye of Charles Ross, the New Haven team, held down for one period by the Blue's effective zone defense, suddenly found the right combination, and broke the scoring duel wide open midway into the second frame. From that point, the Elis rode to victory, but not without a stiff fight from such Blue standouts as Captain Randy Heimer, who turned in one of the top defensive performances of the year, and Hort Smith, who, although stymied to a single basket the second half, kept the Blue within striking distance of the victors for the first two quarters by scoring ten points, and furnishing the floor polish for the Andover attack. Fred Williams also turned in a fine defensive job during the contest, as did Pete Bartlett, captain of last year's Andover quintet, for the Yale hoopsters.

Andover Leads Early

Hardly had most of the spectators settled in their seats, when Hort Smith swished through a jump shot to start the Blue off to a two-point advantage. After Carl Hoffman hit the nets with a free throw, Smith took a long pass, and scored a beautiful lay-up to make the scoreboard read 5-1. Four charity tosses, including three of Morgan's eight free throws for the game, put the visitors within one point of the Blue, and they took the lead for the first time, when Morgan added his first goal from the floor. George Schuyler hit on a fine jump shot to push Andover ahead once more. Charley Ross countered on a long set but this was offset by five quick points by Smith to enable the Blue to command a 12-11 advantage. Then Ross hit for his fifth and sixth points of the period and "Elsie" Morgan banked in a lay-up to move the Elis into a three-point lead. Fred Williams narrowed the margin to a single marker by scoring on a lay-up as the quarter ended. The partisan crowd gave the Andover team a roaring ovation as they left the floor for the first intermission.

Ross Sparks Yale

Charley Ross continued to be a thorn in the side of Andover's victory hopes, by netting eight points to supply the necessary punch for Yale's second period surge. By having a consistent scorer from the outside in Ross, Yale was able to crack the tight Andover zone defense. After Pete Bartlett had pushed in two free throws against his former mates, Schuyler added three to the Andover side of the ledger, making the count read 17-18. Helped along by a standout of the 1952 Exonian cagers, Ed Ready, the Eli frosh inched into a 21-18 margin. Then the Andover defense collapsed, and the visitors rolled up sixteen points, while stalling the Blue offense to a total of seven markers. Bill Tatlock dumped in a free throw, Morgan followed with another, and Ross arched in another set to give Yale a six-point bulge. The Blue rallied briefly, and pulled up to a 24-26 deficit. Yale's defense tightened up at this point, and their scorers caught fire. Charley West scored the first of eleven consecu tive points, and Bill Tatlock followed with another basket. Morgan broke the back of the Blue defense by stealing the ball, and converting an easy lay-up. Ross chipped in three points, and Morgan came right back with another bucket to score the ninth point within a period of two minutes. Ross added insult to injury by tallying on another long set to end the Yale scoring efforts for the first half. "Elsie" Morgan staged a one man dribbling show in an attempt to control the ball, but George Schuyler, handicapped with four fouls, netted three points for the Blue to change the totals to leave Andover eleven points behind, as the half ended.

Elis Roll Up The Score

The Andover attack, which had shown flashes of brilliance the first half, was stopped cold in the third period by Yale's man-to-man defense, and it required some great defensive work by Heimer and Hoffman to hold off the smooth working Eli point-makers. Pete Bartlett and Dave Ready combined to pace the visitors, as they widened their lead into the twenties. The Blue kept pace with their rivals until the middle of the quarter, largely through the efforts of Fred Williams and Randy Heimer, when Ross stripped the cords for another two points to increase the Yale advantage to a comfortable thirty points, Bartlett and Morgan each followed with a fine shot, and when Ready put in a set and a beautiful hook, the Andover hopes for a triumph went out the window. Ross countered again, but Hoffman matched him by sinking one from the corner, and the score was changed to 34-57. Ready added his fourth goal of the period, and Yale led by twenty-five points.

three by Heimer and one each by Schuyler and Williams, raised the Blue to within twenty-one points at 39-60. However, the Yale sharpshooters went back to work, and baskets by Ross, Morgan, and Don Pruett moved the count up a couple of notches to 66-40. Hort Smith hit for his only points of the half on a beautiful set shot, but this was followed by another Eli scoring spree, which swelled their margin to an even thirty points. Following a bucket by reserve center Pete Jenkins, who replaced Schuyler after the latter's fifth foul, an Eli sub, Pete Battista, poured in six points on four free throws and a basket to up the Yale lead to 78-44. Randy Heimer hit for two, and Frank Palumbo connected on a free thow to end the scoring for the Andover five. Bartlett, described as the "outstanding hustler on the squad" by Coach Vogt, chimed in with three more points, as did Ed Ready, to bring the final decision to 84-47.

Blue Inaccuracy

The Andover shot makers had a fairly poor day, hitting only a small percentage of their attempts from the field, and were outscored 32-19. Undoubtedly, they faced their best opposition, as the Yale game is always considered to be the big test of the year for the Dekemen, and no one can say that the Andover cagers did not make a very creditable showing. There was just too much Yale this afternoon.

HORT SMITH (11) goes up for a shot against the M.I.T. Freshmen. Frank Palumbo (4) looks on.

Andover Defeats M.I.T., 74-67; Schuyler And Hoffman Shine In Blue's Sixth Win Of Year

Last Wednesday, in a game in which the decision was doubtful throughout, Andover defeated the M.I.T. freshmen, 73-64.

Playing without the services of Capt. Randy Heimer, the Blue was able to offset M.I.T.'s height with the excellent play of George Schuyler, who scored seventeen points, Carl Hoffman, who scored twelve, and Pete Capra, whose twelve points and team spirit were deciding factors.

First Period

In the first period, with Hayes Clement playing center, the Blue got the jump but soon lost control, and it was not until after M.I.T. had scored on a foul shot that P.A. could break the ice on a jump shot by Capra. For the next two minutes, the teams matched baskets, but with P.A. leading, 8-7, the visitors poured in six quick points on long set shots and took a 13-8 lead. Andover came back, however, and first managed to bring the game to a tie and then to take the lead on a free throw by Fred Williams. Just before the period ended, one of the visitors threw in a set shot to give M.I.T. a 17-16 lead at the quarter.

Second Quarter

At the start of the second quarter, Bill Agree and Pete Jenkins went in for Carl Hoffman and Hayes Clement, and soon P.A. went into the lead on a jump shot by Agee and a layup by Schuyler. At this point, Hort Smith was put in and immediately broke in to the scoring column with a free toss. Andover kept it's slender lead until the last minutes of the second period, aided by the fine play of Bill Agee. Finally Tech took the lead on a free throw, and widened the gap with two jump shots, making the halftime score 34-29, with Tech on top.

Third Quarter

The second half began with Hoffman getting four quick points for

P.A., bringing the score to 36-34. At this point Tech got five points to run the score to 41-34, but to the great relief of P.A. fans, Andover bounced back into the lead as they tallied eight points in a row on the efforts of Smith, Capra, and Schuyler. M.I.T. took a brief one-point lead on a set, but then P.A. captured the lead which was never to be recaptured for the remainder of the game on a set shot by Schuyler. After tihs, P.A. pulled steadily away on the play of Smith and Hoffman, and took a 51-44 lead at the end of the quarter.

Fourth Quarter

In the fourth period, the Blue played slow, steady ball, keeping their seven point lead by swapping baskets with the visitors. Near the middle of the quarter, Tech came within three points of P.A., but the Blue scored eight points in rapid succession on shots by Agee, Schuyler, and Smith. Near the finish, George fouled out. M.I.T. managed to gain four points on the Blue during the last few minutes, but Pete Capra's eight point splurge kept Andover out of danger and sewed up P.A.'s sixth victory of the year, 73-67.

Andover Five Barely Misses Upset In Harvard 58-57 Win; Schuyler Sparks Blue Cagers

The Andover basketball team, seeking its seventh victory of the season and its third win over college freshman opposition, put up a strong battle before bowing to the Harvard Freshmen, 57-58, in a thrilling contest last Saturday.

Coming through with one of the greatest team efforts ever staged by an Andover five, the Blue, although minus two key players and their coach, fought back time and time again, and were denied victory only when a last minute rally fell one point shy of its mark. Paced by George Schuyler, who turned in the outstanding game of the day, and Carl Hoffman, who hit from the outside with deadly consistency, the Blue stubbornly refused to wilt before the Crimson attack, until the clock ran out on them. Trailing by seven points with a scant minute and a half remaining, the Blue, battled back, but couldn't quite get that magic last point needed for the tie, and found themselvves 57-58 losers.

After two long sets by Hoffman, and a jump and a beautiful hook shot by Schuyler had given the Blue an 8-6 margin, Andover widened their advantage to four points at the count of 13-9, as Schuyler hooked in his seventh point of the opening period. John Hurst, who had already tallied eight points on two free throws and three long buckets from the floor, drove in to score his tenth point of the period, which left the Freshmen two points behind. Fred Williams made good on a free throw, but Van Doren slipped in a basket from underneath, and the Blue's lead was sliced to 14-12 as the period ended.

Second Quarter Jinx Again

Following the pattern of their earlier contests, the Blue suffered their usual second period collapse. Dave Bodiker hit for his first scores of the afternoon to move the home team into its first lead at 16-15. Four more markers by Bodiker, along with buckets by Hurst and Van Doren, raised the Crimson advantage to 22-16. The Andover offense, which had worked smoothly during the initial frame, was almost completely bottled up by an effective Harvard man-to-man defense. Bob Bowman did a good job in holding down "Stretch" Clement, the Blue pivot man, but he was not able to prevent "Clem" and Schuyler from grabbing a lion's share of rebounds, to somewhat stall the Harvard scoring. However, the Frosh found a new threat in Van Doren, and, after his six points, Bruce Downey netted four to make the Harvard lead a big eleven points at intermission.

Playing as if they had never heard of their 24-35 half-time deficit, the Blue roared back to trail by a mere two points as the third fram ended. Their tremendous and amazing recovery was featured by accurate shooting from the field and fighting defensive work by every player on the Andover five. With Schuyler and Clement rebounding as if they owned both boards, and Hoffman continuing to sink the long shots in the crucial moments, the Blue whacked at the Cantab's margin until they had cut the Crimson's one-time big point bulge to a shaky four points. By controlling the boards so thoroughly, the Andover quintet was able to force the home team to make costly mistakes, which enabled the Blue to close the gap. With Harvard holding a two bucket lead, they attempted to keep possession of the ball in the waning moments of the period; but the Blue thwarted this attempt, and before the third quarter drew to a close, Carl Hoffman swished through his fourth set shot of the stanza, and the Blue was definitely back in the ball game.

After matching baskets with the Crimson five for the early minutes of the period, the Blue defense was greatly weakened when "Stretch" Clement was forced from the contest with five personal fouls. This was the opportunity that Harvard had been wainting for, and they quickly forged into a 56-49 advantage. Once again the Blue rose to the occasion, and after trailing by a big seven points with only a minute and a half remaining, the Andover "press" worked so effectively, that they suddenly narrowed the Harvard advantage to two tallies. Again the Crimson failed to work their "freeze", and with the second hand almost resting on zero, George Schuyler was awarded two charity tosses. George calmly sank his tenth free throw of the battle, but the law of averages was not with him, and his second attempt hit the rim, and tottered to the right; and, before Pete Capra could recover the rebound, the Blue had dropped a heartbreaking 58-57 decision.

Not enough can be said about the all-around play of George Schuyler, who poured 24 points through the nets, and added a sparkling defensive game in the Blue's moral victory. Carl Hoffman almost matched George in both departments, and with his accurate set shooting, he gave the Blue a constant scoring threat. Acting captain Pete Capra's scrappy hustling must not be omitted, and certainly the fourth quarter efforts of Bill Agee, just returning to full-time duty, cannot be overlooked. Johnny Bronk, coaching for the ailing Mr. DiClemente, deserves great praise for the way he kept the Blue fighting hard throughout the whole contest.

Fighting Exonian Five Upset Andover, 54-40

by Bob Semple and Pete Mohr

A smooth working and hard fighting Exonian team upset the Blue 54-40. Led by Tom Sargent, Ed Hudgins, and Hunter Cooke, the Red forged into a quick lead, and then mixed effective freezes with offensive spurts to lead all the way. Stunning the Andover contingent with deadly shooting the Red five spurted into a quick advantage. Outstanding in Andover..s cause were Schuyler, Palumbo, Jenkins and Smith who kept Andover's threat alive until the final moments.

After Jenkins had swapped tapins with Exeter's Bitzer, Hort Smith swished in a set from the corner to put the Blue into a six-five lead. Jenkins continued to keep Andover in the game, but the Exonian's Hudgins and Cook hit for baskets as the Red moved into a 10-8 lead. The Exeter team continued to hit from the outside with deadly accuracy, and two sets by Sargent and a tap by Hudgins put the Red three baskets in front 16-10. The Redmen went into an effective stall and forced the Blue to foul twice in attempting to gain possession of the ball. Captain Ream and Sargent made good on these opportunities to up the lead to 18-10 at the quarter as the partisan Exeter crowd roared its approval.

Despite a six-minute freeze by the Exonian's, tactics which are by no means new, the Blue quintet was able to get three points from the Exeter advantage after Ed Hudgins put Exeter into a ten-point lead. Hort Smith hit the cords for two straight long push shots and the Blue trailed by only six Hunter Cook in a bucket and substitute center Ludington dumped in a charity toss to widen the Red lead to 23-14.

Once again the Red went into their freeze and although they controlled the ball for five minutes, the Blue broke the stall as George Schuyler drove in for his first two points of the contest to change the total to 25-17. After "Stretch" Clement hit on a free throw, George dumped in a long two hander, and the Red led by five at the intermission.

SECOND HALF

Capra hit on a driving one-hander to make the score 25-22. Pete Jenkins was fouled by Bitzer and scored making the count 25-33. Hudgins scored on a lay-up and then a free-throw increased their lead to 28-33. Next Smith hit on a free-throw for P. A. Exeter froze the ball for a minute, but Schuyler scored to make the count 28-26. After a score by Hudgins, Schuyler scored again with a one-handed push. Sargent followed with a beautiful lay-up and a free throw to make the score 34-28. Schuyler scored and was followed by a free-throw by Cooke of Exeter. This ended the quarter scoring at 36-30, Exeter's favor.

Smith hit on a beautiful jump-shot to start the quarter. Schuyler scored after Bitzer of the Red had pushed in a one-hander. The score stood 38-34 as the quarter went into its final seven minutes.

Jenkins was fouled and scored on a free-throw. Schuyler scored on a foul shot and the Blue trailed by only two-points with five minutes to go. Sargent hit on a foul shot, and Hudgins scored on a driving lay-up. Schuyler hit on a free-throw and Sargent scored two points to increase the Red lead to 43-37. Jenkins scored on a foul shot followed by Hudgins and Cook who scored four consecutive points to widen the Exeter lead to 46-38.

As the game went into its final minute Sargent began widening the Red lead by scoring on a one-handed jump shot. Exeter led by ten at that point. Jenkins scored two free-throws for the Blue but Cook hit for two and Exeter led by eleven with twenty seconds to go. Sargent whipped in a quick three points to increase the Red lead to their final 54-40 score as the game ended.

Bloom Only Victor As Matmen Drop Decision To Yale

Coach Pieters' matmen ran into the expected rugged competition Saturday as they played host to a fine Yale Freshman squad, containing two P.A. '52 Alumni, Roger Hinkson and Jerome Kern. Yale annexed the decision by the score of 29 to 3. The match was featured by Max Bloom's lone win for Andover and Fred Felton's first loss.

INITIAL VICTORY

In the day's first match, Max Bloom got Andover off to an auspicious start as he copped a 3 to 0 win over Coyle of Yale to give the home forces a short-lived lead. Maxie took his man down and rode him effectively. Coyle escaped but, Max took his man down and rode and with his advantage in riding time hung on to gain the decision.

At 130, Jerome Kern, a former Andoverite, made short work of Lower Al Loosigian. Loosigian was quickly dumped and pinned in 54 seconds of the first period.

At 137, Frank Stella defaulted when a separated shoulder prevented him from continuing. Stella is probably out for the season, and his absence will cause some drastic lineup shifts.

In the 147-pound class, Captain Donnie Stout met Maeder, who copped a 7 to 4 decision. Don wrestled well but all he could manage was an escape and two penalty points. Meader got the takedown, a near fall, an escape, and a reversal. The riding times were nearly equal, but Stout could do little with his more experienced opponent.

Another of Coach Pieters' standouts from last year, Rog Hinkson, next pinned Joel Davis of Andover. Wrestling almost flawlessly, the Eli got the takedown and several times nearly pinned the hard-fighting Davis; at 6:14 of the final period he turned the trick with a cradle.

At 167, Al Korschun lost his first match of the year. Al fought hard, but at the end his opponent had a lopsided edge in all the statistics and won, 7 to 2. Fred Felton also tasted defeat for the first time this season as he succumbed to Yale's Riley in the 177-pound class. In the best match of the day, two excellent wrestlers indulged in a wild free-scoring bout. Felton was taken down and was unable to reverse as the wary Riley blocked his every move. Fred managed an escape in the second period but was himself reversed and nearly pinned. As in the previous matches, Yale's greater experience was the deciding factor.

Les Blank returned to the heavyweight after an enforced layoff and was convincingly pinned by Cone of Yale at 5:55 of the third period. Cone dumped Les and nearly had him pinned several times, but Blank managed to prolong the match until early in the third period.

Undoubtedly the best team P.A. has yet faced, Yale secured four pins and three decisions on her way to the lopsided victory, two of these pins belonging to members of last year's squad. The next opponent is the Brown Freshman squad, which will be here Wednesday.

fore would substitute "Nicaragua" every time he came to the word "Columbia" in his notes. His three main points were: (1) Horses and bulls were controversial figures in the intervention of the Marines in Nicaraguan politics, for the horses were prone to fainting in the hot sun and had to be carried by the marines. The marines, he added, "fed the bull well". (2) Just as there was no joy in Mudville (here he quoted a few lines from "Casey at the Bat") for mighty Casey had struck out, there was no joy in Managua when the Marines landed. (3) The main crop in Nicaragua is bananas.

The last speaker for the affirmative was Dan Hannon. With aid of figures read by his colleague from a cumbersome volume, he proved conclusively that the sale of soybean bonds increased greatly after the Marines arrived, due to the fact that the marines had contributed their talents as "soybean huckers". Because of this, he maintained, the country had been saved. Dan went on to say that the United States Government's move was (1) morally and (2) ethically right. To prove the latter he referred to a diary which he said was by Jefferson Munday, the author of the Marine Hymn. "Dear God", he read, "send the Marines".

Carl Andre was introduced, by Presiding Judge Roger Donald, as a "legume expert". Soybeans, he explained, found a market in the United States through the Ford Company who converted them into steering wheels. By way of clarification, he put the following formula on a blackboard: SB (soybeans) plus heat equals STEW (steering wheel). Next he produced, out of a black satchel, a can of "Nicaraguan-hucked soybeans". A volunteer, Bill Joseph, was chosen from the audience. When asked if he ate soybeans, he produced a

H.M.S. Pinafore In Rehearsal for Dual Spring Production

Running into its first joint rehearsal on February 18 is this year's operetta, Gilbert and Sullivan's H.M.S. Pinafore. Since late this fall the P.A. Glee Club has been practicing the various choruses, looking forward to the joint rehearsals culminated with the dress rehearsal early in the Spring Term and the dual performances on April 17th and 18th.

Given in conjunction with Abbot Academy, this year's operetta will have several innovations. These include two separate male and female choruses, one for each act. This year's enlarged orchestra will play for the whole production. In last year's presentation, The Pirates of Penzance, only a part of the performance was orchestrated.

The male chorus and the orchestration are under the direction of Mr. William Schneider, head of the P.A. Music Department. Miss Friskin, head of the Abbot Music Department, will conduct the female chorus and direct piano accompaniment. Mr. Sam Willson of Andover is Associate Conductor. There will be a total of over a hundred voices in the combined choruses, consisting of 60 voices from Abbot and 50 from Andover.

H.M.S. Pinafore has a majority of male leads. These will be sung

Matmen Lose Close Match to Brown Frosh Wrestlers, 14-12

By Stephen Clarkson

In a contest which was undecided until the end of the final match, Andover's wrestling team received its third consecutive defeat from a consistent squad of Brown Freshmen.

The match, held in the Borden Gym on Wednesday, ended with the Freshmen ahead by a score of 14 to 12.

Max Bloom started the match for P.A. at 123 lbs. by taking Adkins of Brown on a decision. Bloom had his man underneath him most of the way. and scored a reversal in the second period for the win. Next, Baird of the Freshmen, whose brother wrestles here, came up against Al Loosigian with an advantage both in weight and size. Al showed plenty of aggressiveness, but his opponent simply "rode" him to victory, using a three-quarter nelson to score two takedowns.

Captain Don Stout was the next to take the mat, defeating Zimmerman by a 6-0 decision. The first period was used by each man to feel out the other, but in the second Stout took over and worked his man down. In the third, he again took the advantage and throughout the period tried unsuccessfully to secure a pin.

In the 147 lb. class, Bailey put the visitors into the lead with a pin over Levin of the Blue. Levin was pressed the entire distance by Bailey, who outperformed his opponent decisively. Russel continued with another victory for Brown by a 6-2 decision over Kohr in the 157 lb. class.

"Varsity Al" Korschun was defeated at 167 lbs. Al, who started the year at heavyweight, was undefeated until last week, when the whole team had a difficult time. Never being able to break from under for long, Korschun nevertheless wrestled well, managing to break several threatening pin holds.

At this point the struggle began to grow tense, with a fall a decision necessary for a tie by P.A. Two of Andover's top matmen were to follow, and the chances looked good for a draw. The first of these was Fred Felton, who took the circle against Brown's captain, Wilenzek. The first seconds were spent by both men searching for an opening. Felton saw one and took it, immediately attempting a series of bars and three-quarter nelsons which would enable him to secure a pin. He continued this into the second and third periods. Although trying desparately, he was not able to gain a fall and the bell stopped him with a 7-0 decision.

Andover's hopes now lay on Les Blank fighting the final match of the day in the heavyweight spot, After about half a minute Blank worked Gregory, his opponent, into a scissors, which he held, but was not able to use to any advantage. In the second period he again tried a scissors, but by holding it he almost pinned himself. He broke it, however, and in the final stretch Gregory kept him in a tight cradle all the way. Blank won the decision by a take down which he had scored in the second period,

Cestero did say, however, that the book will feature a class poem by John Ratte, who is also doing the double-spread, white on black dividers which will serve to separate the various sections.

Another probable new feature is the cover, both inside and out. What the outside will look like will be a "surprise" to all. On the inside, instead of the usual aerial view of the campus, it is possible that there will be pen and ink sketches of campus buildings.

Cestero also mentioned that if the new format is used, this year's of the gym to Mr. Montville Peck, Director of Athletics.

Mr. Kemper, in introducing Mr. Abbot Stevens, also cited Mr. Peck for his vigilance in keeping watch over the construction of the gym. The headmaster said that "no matter how fast I tried to get to the building each day, Monte and Mr. Stevens were always there before me". Mr. Stevens, (P.A., 1907) cited again the gym as a "living memorial" and drew back the curtain, revealing the white plaque bearing the names of the 143 alumni in whose honor the building was erected.

The band, led by Mr. Raymond A. Wolff, Jr., played "The Star Spangled Banner"; then Rev. Baldwin closed the ceremonies with a prayer.

Red Pins Matmen, 20-9. Felton, Kohn And Korschun Win

by Steve Clarkson

Finishing the season with a record of 2 wins and 4 losses the Andover wrestling team went down in defeat at the hands of a powerful group of Redmen.

Barron Kidd started for Andover, in the 115 lb. class against Dejolie. Dejolie took the lead with a takedown in the first and, riding Kidd closely all the way, he scored a pin in the second period to give Exeter a 5-0 lead.

Anderson was the next matman for the Red who came up against Maxie Bloom at 123 lbs. After an uneventful first period, Bloom took the initiative but was upset when the Redman scored a reversal. Bloom was ridden hard throughout the second and third periods and, although Maxie fought admirably the Exonian grabbed 3 more points.

The 130 lb. match with the Blue's Al Loosigian against Marberry proved to be the most exciting match of the day. The pair spent the first period in feeling each other out, but in the second Al exploded, and after working his opponent over, worked down his resistance. He was prevented from a pin by the bell. Marberry had plenty of stamina left, however, and scored a takedown in the final period to win by a decision.

Captain Don Stout was the next to take the circle for the home team against Jordon. An exceptionally powerful wrestler, Jordan rode Stout the entire first and second periods and scored a reversal in the last to win another decision for the Northerners. Exeter's Captain, Whit Wales, who wrestles at this weight, has been unable to compete all season.

Charlie, "the Leach," Levin wrestled in the 147 lb. spot, replacing Joel Davis, who is sidelined with an arm infection. Outmanned all the way, Levin obviously had a great deal less experience than his opponent, Lisle, and was eventually defeted.

Jack Kohr made the next attempt to help the Blue cause against Baker at 157 lbs. Using his great strength to advantage, he scored a takedown and escape in the second period. He held Baker from that time on taking the first points for PA.

Steve Von Molmar, who has been hampered by a sore arm, fought an exceptionally fine match against Hogue of the Red to win a 2-0 decision. He kept his man under most of the time, scoring a reversal in the second for the win. This success was over shadowed, however, by the fact that an Andover win was made mathematically impossible.

In the 169 lb. class, "Fearless" Fredie Felton defeated Eaton of Exeter. Felton, a consistent winner, displayed his mastery from the start taking the initial take-down, and he immediately began a series of bars and ¾ nelsons in an attempt to secure a pin. All his knowledge was to no avail, however, and he had to be satisfied with a decision.

In the final match of the day, Al Korschum came up against Maderer, in a contest showing the spectators another fine example of wrestling. Neither wrestler was able to do anything in the first period, or in the second, although Maderer pressed Korschum hard for the greater part of the time. The Redman then gathered two points by a reversal, thus winning the match and the meet for Exeter.

Swimmers Break Relay Record, Beat Portland; Northeaster

Swimming Team Defeats Portland; Breaks Record

The Andover swimming team won its first meet of the year by trouncing a highly rated Portland High School team 50 to 25. The Andover swimmers went into the meet feeling that they couldn't win and came out a jubilant squad. Proof that this year's team is even better than last year's, that lost only two meets can be seen by the fact the the 200 yard relay team broke the school record, which was set by last year's team in that event. Even though Portland lacked their best swimmer, it was doubtful that he could have given Porland a victory.

As was expected, Andover jumped to a quick lead by taking first and third in the 50 yard freestyle. Stu Ogden won this event to make it his sixth straight individual win. His time was slower than usual — a 24.6. Second place went to Portland's Sanford. Third place was copped by Kent McKamy, an Upper swimming in his first meet for the varsity. Andover's perennial weak spot, the 100 yard breaststroke, looked better than it has in past years, as John Mason, just out of the infirmary, took a second place. Portland's Litrocapes took first place with a 1:12.8 while his teammate, Ball placed third to tie the meet up. However, from here on, Andover was never challenged.

Andover swimmers swept the first two places in the next event, the 200 yard free style. Dan Cornwell, a Senior prep, took the first place in the best time turned in by an Andover swimmer for several years, a 2:04.7. He took the lead from the beginning and was only challenged once by another Andover swimmer, John Graf. Cornwell's time was within a half a second of his best time. Graf, an Upper prep, took a very secure second as he finished with open water to spare over Portland's Wescott. The 100 yard back stroke was won by Portland's Merrill. Even though he completely missed his first turn and was losing at the 50 he put on a final sprint to win in the good time of 1:06.2. Frank Pierce of Andover took second over his rival, Neal McCorvie. Both Frank's and Neal's times were a bit slower than usual because of poor pacing. The final event before the diving, the 100 yard free style, was won by co-captain Ralph Douglas. Ralph's time of 57.1 was over a second better than his best official time of last year. Andover again swept the first two places as Pete Behn, swimming his first year on the varsity, took second place in front of Conroy of Portland.

Andover scored a third sweep in the diving as co-captain Tony Lopez and Twink Catlett, a lower, took first and second respectively. The closeness of the competion can be seen in the fact that the first three divers scored exactly the same points on the required dive, the back dive. Although Tony missed a few entries, his final score of 56.8 was his best ever. The final individual event was won by Portland in 1:46.3. Second place in the individual medley went to another Portland swimmer. Tad Girdler took third in his best time to clinch the meet for Andover.

The Andover medley relay of Frank Pierce, Tim Draper and Dave Glendinning took first place in 1:28.4, their best time of the year. The highlight o the meet occurred in the final event of the day, the 200 yard relay. The combination of Pete Behn, Dan Cornwell, Ralph Douglas and Stu Ogden set a new school record of 1:36.9.. This time is three tenths of a second under the old record set in last year's Exeter meet by Henderson, Dinsmoore, Douglas, and Ogden. Although Pete lost a little, Dan made up the loss plus some, and from there on it became a matter of how much the Andover team would win by.

RECORD BREAKING relay team of Pete Behn, Dan Cornwell, Ralph Douglas, and Stu Ogden.

On The Sidelines

By R. B. Semple, Jr.

Somewhere else in this paper the reader will find a lengthy exposition on the free-substitution rule and the diverse effects on prep-school and college sports caused by its sudden death last week.

Hoffman who popped in 13, also, while looking as if he had recovered from his "off" day against Huntington. The final score of 71 to 48 against a team just as good as their opponent of 3 days before shows a distinct improvement.

NEW RECORD SET

The swimmers looked in good form against Portland High School on Saturday. A rather thrilling climax to the day's festivities was reached in the final event of the day, the 200 yd. relay. A team of Cornwall, Capt. Douglas, Behn, and Ogden cracked the old record of 1:37.2 with a pact-setting time of 1:36.9, a performance which any team would find hard to equal. Cornwall swam an excellent lap, and Behn, Douglas and Ogden so outdistanced their rivals that the crowd could almost have sensed that a record of some sort had been established.

Frank Pierce, showing excellent form and a tremendous improvement over last year, came through with a very close second in the 100-yard back-stroke, beating out his teammate and chief rival, Neal McCorvie. Pierce is joined by another upper, John Graf, who turned in a good time placing second to the unbeatable Cornwall in the 200-yard freestyle. Co-capt. Lopez and a lower, Catlett, placed one and two in the dive, assuring Coach Dake that this is one event about which he need not worry.

Swimmers Take Six First Places In Blue's Lone Dartmouth Victory

By Kent McKamy

A strong Blue team outswam a well-balanced Dartmouth frosh team at Darmouth last Saturday, and won by a score of 42-33. Although visibly weakened by the absence of several key varsity men, the Blue made the Dartmouth meet the second win of the season against no defeats.

In the fifty-yard freestyle, Stu Ogden outswam the two Dartmouth men for first place, with a time of 24.5 seconds. He was hard pressed by Hauck of the Green, who came in a scant second behind him. John Mason easily passed Davis of Dartmouth on the third lap of the 100 yd. breaststroke, to take first place with a time of 1 min. 13.3 seconds. Davis who kept up a very fast pace for the 50, bogged down on the third lap, but neverthesless finished second, with Tim Draper of Andover right behind him to take third place.

The 200 yd. freestyle saw Dan Cornwell of the Blue sweep first place, with one of his best times so far this year; a 2:03. Karslake of Dartmouth took second place, and Ted Probert, swimming for the first time this season, captured third place. In the 100 yard backstroke, Dartmouth took first and second, with Neal McCorvie of Andover taking third place. Rosazza of Dartmouth did a very fast 1:07.4 for this event. The backstroke was the most hard hit of any event, by the absence of Frank Pierce, who was unable to go.

Dartmouth took its second first of the meet in the 100 yard freestyle, with Hust of the Green doing a very 55 seconds flat. One of the Blue's co-captains, Ralph Douglas, finished very close behind him to capture second place, and Crato of the Green just nipped out Pete Behn for third place. The Blue showed up very strongly in the 150 yard individual medley, with Dan Cornwell again taking first place with a 1:43.6. Tad Girdler came in right behind him to seize second place, while Worrell of Dartmouth finished third.

All eyes then turned to the diving, where two school records were set. Twink Catlett of Andover first broke the old record of 58.5, with a 64.5, and then Tony Lopez, who took first in the diving broke Catlett's newly set record, with an even better 67.5. Teh Blue is thus far undefeated in diving, and it seems that if Catlett and Co-Captain Lopez keep up the pace they have set so far, Andover will continue to be undefeated in this department.

The diving finished, attention reverted back to the 150 yard medley, which the Blue team of McCorvie, Mason, and Ogden took with a time of 1:26.3, to defeat a Dartmouth team consisting of Rosazza, Barrett and Keare. An unfortunate accident kept Keare, the freestyler, from finishing. He had an 8 yard lead on Stu Ogden, and although Ogden had caught up with him at the turn, Keare wrenched his shoulder by trying a flip turn and was unable to finish the last lap. Then, in the last event, the 200 yard freestyle relay, a powerful Gren team of Hauck, Castles, Karslake, and Hust, defeated the Blue team of Colby, McKamy, Behn, and Douglas, with a time of 1:39.9.

RECORD BROKEN

A number of personal records were broken at Dartmouth on Saturday, as well as one Andover mark. Tony Lopez and "Tink" Catlett both smashed the old diving record of 58.5 set by Worden of the class of '50. Tony won with a 67.4 point total, and Catlett, a lower, wasn't too far back with 64. Dan Cornwell again turned in a good day, possibly one of the best all-around performances of the week, scoring a sound victory in the individual medley and racking up his best time of the year, 2:03.0, in the 200 free.

Second - String Natators Crush Weak Gardner H.

The Andover swimming team remained the only P.A. winter sports team with an unblemished record, as they crushed a weak Gardner High aggregation in the Andover pool on Saturday. Because of the feeble opposition, such stars as Stu Ogden, Ralph Douglas, and Dan Cornwell did not compete in individual events, thus giving several second string members of the squad a chance to swim. In most cases, they were not needed, as the Blue natators won every event but two, and swept four events of the seven individual event program.

Andover jumped to a quick lead which was never relinquished in the first event, the 50-yard freestyle, as Dave Glendinning and Al Colby took first and second respectively. The two Andover entries were practically even from start to finish. Henchey of Gardner was third. The winning time was 26.3 seconds.

Gardner salvaged her lone first place in the individual events as Burns beat out Andover Junior Russ Branch in a close race. The winning time was 1:13.7. Crowther of the Blue was third. P.A.'s John Graf won the next event, the 200-yard freestyle over teammate Ted Probert in the time of 2:12.8. The time was three seconds off John's best to date, but he wasn't pushed hard. Probert stayed even for half the race, then dropped slightly behind. He finished a safe second ahead of Gardner's Saari.

Andover Upper Frank Pierce won the 100-yard backstroke handily in 1:09.9. Gardner's Rembisewski beat teammate LeClair for second place. Andover's Hugh McMillan finished third but was disqualified. Another close race, the 100-yard freestyle, was decided in favor of P.A.'s Orv Mann over teammate Pete Behn in what appeared to be a dead heat. The time was 58.4 seconds. Third place was taken by Henchey of Gardner.

The Blue diving team of Tony Lopez and Twink Catlett also continued undefeated in competition this year as they finished first and second over Ashe of Gardner. The winning score of 50.1 points was well below the score Tony racked up the previous Saturday to set the new school record.

Tad Girdler won the 150-yard individual medley for Andover in the time of 1:50.1 He took a slight lead after the first two laps and gradually increased it. Lower Art Kelly copped second place for P.A., finishing well ahead of Gardner's Burns.

An Andover team of Tony Hoag, Bill Crowther, and Dick Koerting won the medley relay with a time of 1:34.4. In the final event, the 200-yard freestyle relay, an Andover team of Orv Mann, Dan Cornwell, Ralph Douglas, and Stu Ogden did a time of 1 minute, 36.7 seconds, breaking by two tenths of a second the record set by another P.A. team in the first meet of the year. The Blue swimmers were disqualified, however, and the record does not count.

As Powerful Harvard Freshmen Beat Track Team; Hurdle Record Tied

By R. N. Beilenson

A strong Harvard Freshman track team swamped Andover last Wednesday by the score of 78-30. Pete Harpel in the weight, George Bixby in the discus, and Dana Smith in the pole vault were the sole winners for the Blue.

P.A. Leads Early

To open the meet at 1:30 George Bixby heaved the discus 125'1" to retain his unbeaten record. He came very close to raising that distance to about 130' but fouled on his last throw. Cheek, Exeter '52, and Morrison of Harvard took second and third respectively.

Pete Harpel took Andover's second win with a toss of 52'7" in the weight. This topped by about two feet the second place throw by Smith of Harvard. Keith P.A. '52, also of the Freshmen, took third. Andover now led by a slim 10-8 margin.

Previously unbeaten Fred Guggenheim could take only third in the 40-yard hurdles, his specialty. Ed Carter and Rosenthal of Harvard ran one-two in the time of 5.4 seconds. This is the fastest hurdles race run in the Cage this year and equals the Andover Cage record set by a different Ed Carter in 1945 and equalled by Doug Graham in 1951. The 40-yard dash was swept by Harvard with Bruck winning in 4.6 which also ties the Andover Cage record. Howie Shaff and Steve Snyder had qualified for the final, but were edged by hurdlers Carter and Rosenthal, who took second and third.

The 1000 yard run was won by French of Harvard in 2.28.3. Dave Craton of Andover was second and Thors of Harvard third. Craton spurted into the lead at the first turn, closely followed by French with Parks of the Blue in third place. They ran in this order until French and Thors passed their men on the third lap. Craton and Parks tried to regain lost ground but were unsuccessful.

Ken Sharp heaved the shot 49'2" but was topped by Cheek of Harvard, who managed a 51'6" throw. With John Scranton on the inactive list, Andover's broad jumping was left up to Ray Lamontagne, Dick Morse, and Russ Shaver. Lamontagne came through to take second place by jumping 19'5", five inches behind Hodges' winning leap for Harvard.

Varsity Basketball Overcome By Tilton, 77-55; Smith P.A. High Scorer In Fourth Loss

By Bob Neviaser

The Andover Varsity Basketball team absorbed their fourth loss in nine games last Wednesday, from Tilton School, 77-55. The Blue was the better team in regard to ball-handling and court finesse, but they couldn't keep up with the deadly visitors where it counted — in scoring, although Pete Capra and Fred Williams played well for Andover.

Varsity Swimmers Trounce Tufts Freshmen, 56-19; Relay Team Breaks School Record

By Robert Pitts

After being beaten rather soundly last Saturday by a strong Yale freshman team, the varsity swimmers had a pleasant breather, defeating a nine-man Tufts freshman team 56-19 Wednesday. While Tufts managed to win two events, Andover took first in the remaining seven, breaking one school and two pool records.

QUICK LEAD

Andover jumped to a quick lead by winning first and second in the 50 yard freestyle. Stew Ogden took this event in 24.5 seconds, followed by the Blue's Ralph Douglas. The first event left the score 8-1 for Andover, as Wright took third place for Tufts.

Tufts' Hoyle took first in the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1 minute 11.3 seconds. Draper and Kelly followed, giving second and third places to the Blue.

John Graf outswam Tufts' Carley for first place in the two hundred yard freestyle in 2 minutes 11.4 seconds. Although this does not stand up against Dan Cornwell's 2:03 time, Graf was not hard-pushed by Carley. Probert took third for the Blue, leaving Andover still in the lead, 16-9.

The Blue took the 100-yard backstroke with McCorvie and Mac Millan taking first and second respectively for P.A. — time 1 minute 08.8 seconds, leaving third place for Simones of Tufts.

Versatile Dan Cornwell broke the old pool record for the 100-yard freestyle in 55.1 seconds. Although he usually swims the two hundred he beat out the Blue's A. Faurot, who took a secure second. Again, third place was given to the Tufts freshman, as Simonds registered their only point in this event.

Wright took first place for the opponents in the 150-yard individual medley, in 1 minute, 48.9 seconds. Girdler and Graf finished second and third for the Blue, leaving the score 36-16 at the end of the first six events.

Tony Lopez stayed out of the diving to permit Frank Halford to dive his first meet of the year. Twink Catlett broke the old pool record by one tenth of a point, topping Lopez's best home score of 58.5 points. Tufts' O'Neil finished second, followed by Andover's Halford for third.

P.A.'s 150-yard medley relay team of McCorvie, Draper, and Glendenning topped Tufts' Arnold, Hoyle, and Fulton in 1 minute, 28.4 seconds. Again, this was not a top time for the Blue, presumably because of the lack of competition.

The final event ended in a record-breaking victory for P.A. The 200-yard freestyle relay team of C. Faurot, Cornwell, Douglas, and Ogden broke all pool and school records for this event by topping their original record of 1 minute 36.8 sceonds by one tenth of a second.

Andover Pool, Track, Court Marks Tumble in Four-Sport Festival

By GENE MACK JR.

The record book took a beating at Andover yesterday but most of the damage was perpetrated by visiting athletes as Phillips Academy split even in four events.

Andover boys set three pool records in a swimming victory over Tufts College Freshmen, 56-19. But Harvard Freshmen equalled two cage marks while defeating Andover's track squad, 48-30, John Mann of Tilton Academy scored 39 points in basketball for an Andover gym record as the home team bowed, 77-55.

Only One Shot at Goal

Andover's hockey team delivered the most decisive triumph, smothering Browne and Nichols, 12-0. Mike Harvey scored four goals for the victors. Andover allowed B. & N. only one shot at the goal.

The record-breakers in the swimming meet were Cornwell in the 100-yard free style, Catlett in the diving, and the Andover group of C. Faurot, Cornwell, Douglas and A. Ogden in the 200 yard free style relay.

Cornwell, Faurot, Catlett Set Pool Marks In Brown Win

A Blue wave literally swamped the Brown Frosh Swimmers Wednesday by a score of 58 to 16. Dan Cornwell, Charley Faurot, and Twink Catlett set new pool records as Andover finished first in every event.

Tim Draper of the Blue came in first in the breaststroke, but his disqualification for an illegal turn gave the visitors their only first of the meet.

Stu Ogden and Ralph Douglas finished first and second respectively in the 50-yard freestyle. Ogden's winning time was 24.7 seconds, a little slower than his usual time, but still good enough to win the event. His partner, Douglas, finished two tenths of a second behind him, leaving third place to Brown's Dick Hughes. In the 100-yard breaststroke, Tim Draper was disqualified and therefor lost first place, giving five points to Field of the Frosh. Russ Branch, a Junior captured second, while Hank Baer of Brown took third.

The distance men were the next to take the blocks and 2 minutes, 10.1 seconds later, John Graf came in to take first place in the 200-yard freestyle for the Blue. Andover's Faurot finished two seconds behind him to take second. Third place went to Samuels of Brown, putting the Blue ahead by a score of 19 to 8. Graf had a good even stroke, and finished strongly, without appearing to be the least bit tired.

Probably the closest race of the day was the 100-yard backstroke. Neal McCorvie and Frank Pierce, swimming for the Blue, were not more than two feet from each other throughout the whole race. McCorvie, although losing a little on the start, caught Pierce on the third lap, and until ten feet from the finish it looked as though there was going to be a tie for first. McCorvie, however, put on a desperate drive and pulled out a stroke ahead of Pierce, to win the event in a 1:08.1. Pierce took second, with open water between him and the closest Brown man, Seid, who took third.

The first record of the afternoon was set in the 100-yard freestyle by Dan Cornwell, who came through easily to take the event in a startling 54.5 seconds. Although Dan was ahead from the start, Dick Fogelson of the visitors gave him a good race, and came in only one second behind him. Kent McKamy of Andover took third just ahead of Blank of Brown.

Not to be outdone, Charley Faurot proceeded to break the pool record in the 150-yard individual medley, in 1:42.0. His teammate Art Kelley, a Lower, did one of his best times of the season, and took second behind Faurot. Kelley was was no third place in this event, since Brown elected to swim only one man in the race.

Twink Catlett and Tony Lopez finished first and second respectively in the diving, Catlett setting his second pool record with a score of 58.7. Both men dove very well, and it was a toss-up as to who had won until co-manager Bill Weigand announced the final scores. Randazzo of Brown took third.

The only remaining events were the two relays: the medley and the 200-yard freestyle, and although however, and second place was given to Dorsey of the Frosh. There disqualified by an illegal turn, Andover was ahead forty-six to sixteen, Coach Dake did not let up, as he wanted to try for the record in both events. The medley relay team, although doing a good time, did not break a record. The team of Pierce, Draper, and Mann won the event in 1:27.3.

The 200-yard relay team of Pete Behn, Dan Cornwell, Ralph Douglas, and Stu Ogden also failed to set a new record, although they finished well ahead of the Brown team, with a 1:37.5 clocking.

Blue Defeats Harvard, 43-32. Behn, Cornwell, Douglas Ogden Lower Relay Record

The Andover swimming team made their seasonal re ord six wins against one loss as they defeated a previous unbeaten Harvard Frehshmen team, 43 to 32, last Saturda The meet was not fully decided until the last event, the 20 yard relay, which the Andover team of Stu Ogden, Ral Douglas, Pete Behn, and Dan Cornwell won in setting a n school record for the event.

OGDEN WINS

Stu Ogden won the fifty-yard freestyle in his best official time of the year. His time of 24.2 was two tenths of a second slower than his time in the Yale meet, but considerably better than his last few times. So far this ycar Stu has been undefeated except for the Yale meet, when he was defeated by the current holder of the national freshman fifty-yard freestyle record. Harvard took the next two places. Ralph Douglas, who took fourth, was third going into the turn, but missed the turn and finished a close fourth. Harvard's Holcenberg and Stenson took a clean sweep in the second event, the hundred-yard breaststroke. The winning time was 1:09.8. John Mason took a third place after leading the two Harvard men into the fifty. His time was his best to date by over a second.

Harvard took its second first of the day as Geer won the 200 with a 2:05.9. John Graf, after leading for the first fifty, fell back and finished a secure second. Ted Probert took third place well in front of the last place man. Andover's second win of the day came as Charley Faurot beat Harvard's Olympic breastroker, Hawkins, in the 100-yard backstroke. Faurot's time was a 1:03.9, almost a second slower than his previous time. Harvard's Benton beat out Neal McCorvie for third place to make the score 21 to 15 in Harvard's favor.

ONLY SWEEP

In the last event before the diving, the 100-yard freestyle, Andover took a first as Dan Cornwell swam a fast 54.1 seconds. This is four tenths under Dan's pool record of 54.5 but will not count as it was not made in Andover's pool. About seven feet behind Dan came Johnson of Harvard and Jack Dinsmoore, an ex-Andover swimmer. Although bothered a bit by the poor lighting, Andover's divers, Twink Catlett and Tony Lopez, still finished one-two to put Andover in the lead for the second time that day. Twink's score was his best so far this season: a 59.2. This also betters his Andover pool record, but like Cornwell's time does not count because it was not made at the P.A. pool. Because of Andover's only sweep, by the divers, the score was now 28 to 26 in Andover's favor, although the lead was to shift once more.

In the final individual event, the 150-yard individual medley, Faurot and Hawkins continued their duel, this time with Hawkins emerging the victor. He took the lead early in the race as he led Faurot by open water in the first fifty. Although Faurot caught up a little on the backstroke, Hawkins went on to win and set a new Harvard Freshmen record of 1:36.6. Stenson of Harvard beat out Art Kelly for third place.

The medley relay team of Neal McCorvie, John Mason and Orv Mann took first place to return the lead to Andover. Neal touched out the backstroker who had previously beaten him, giving a slight lead to John Mason. Although Mason lost a little, Orv more than made it up on his start. Although the Harvard breaststroke touched first, Orv hit the water two feet in front

Swimmers Win Sixth

The Harvard Frosh became the swimmer's sixth consecutive victim, and, although the natators found a little more trouble Saturday than they have before, it seems more and more evident that they are set for an undefeated (discounting Yale) season. Dan Cornwell is knocking the 100-yd. freestyle record down each time he swims the event; however, he must be content to rest in the limelight of a 200-yd. relay team of himself, Ogden, Behn, and Capt. Ralph Douglas which also is breaking records rather consistently.

One can hardly say that they should have any trouble with Exeter; however, Saturday March seventh should prove the day of their supreme trial, when the Interschol-turn. McCorvie provided a little relief for the tension that was building up by executing one of the most unusual turns yet to be seen. He went into his third turn and came out seemingly all right, but upon breaking water, he started for the wall once more. It turned out later that his hand missed the wall the first time. He was disqualified because the second time, he touched on his stomach instead of on his back. Hamilton of Exeter claimed second after McCarvie's disqualification, with his teammate Salzman, taking third.

Dan Cornwell, the Blue's best freestyle swimmer, lived up to his All-American reputation by not only breaking the pool record and the Andover-Exeter record, but by smashing the school record previously held by Dick Thoman, with a terrific 53.2 seconds. This is undisputably Cornwell's best time of the year. Following him up was teammate Orville Mann, who also turned in his best time of the season. Mann paced himself very well, kept a good, even stroke, and finished four tenths of a second under the old school record, and did a full second better than he did in last week's meet. Cornwell's steady drive left little doubt, even at the start, that he would finish first. Mann kept up with him for the first fifty, but dropped a little behind on the thrd lap.

The stands quieted as the diving began. Lower Twink Catlett kept up his record breaking spree, as he went on not only to break the pool record, but also the Andover-Exeter record as well. Exeter's diver was left behind at the start, when co-captain Tony Lopez and Catlett began out-pointing him by two and three points per dive. Catlett's graceful form was just good enough to edge out his partner Lopez. Both divers, however, dived exceptionally well, and left no doubt as to the outcome of the event. Catlett's 64.4 points was six points above the school record, which he had set in the previous meet a week before. Lopez finished right behind Catlett, leaving third place to Exeter's Ball.

The Blue took first and second in the grueling 150-yard individual medley, as Andover's iron man, Charley Faurot, came in with open open water between him and the next man. Faurot's 1:42.4 was not his best time, although he missed the pool record by a scant four tenths of a second. Second place was not as easily won, for Exeter's Breasted gave Tad Girdler a race all the way. Even as both man touched, no one was sure as to who had gotten second until number two lit up on the Andover side of the scoreboard. Girdler's fast pace on the first two laps kept Faurot straining to stay out in front. Breasted picked up on Girdler in the freestyle, where Tad begun to tire. Nevertheless, Girdler had enough drive to nose out the Exeter entry and give Andover a sweep of the event.

Exeter's second first came in the medley relay, as the almost unbeatable team of Hamilton, Falk, and Dyer swamped the Blue team of McCorvie, Mason, and Mann. Exeter's team smashed the pool and Andover-Exeter records with an amazing 1.21.4. Outstanding again for the Red was Sigo Falk, who did a very fast fifty breaststroke. His rival for the second time of the afternoon was John Mason, who put everything he had into it, but nonetheless lost a little to the much more experienced Falk.

The most spectacular race of the afternoon was without a doubt the 200-yard freestyle relay. The team of Pete Behn, Dan Cornwell, Ralph Douglas, and Stu Ogden lowered the pool, school, and Andover-Exeter records by two full seconds, just missing by one tenth of a second the national secondary school record. The Red team was outclassed from the start, when Pete Behn turned in his best fifty of the year, a 24.6. Dan Cornwell probably did the most outstanding split time of the relay, a 23.3. Stu Ogden and Ralph Douglas both did more than was asked of them, turning in identical times of 23.4 seconds apiece. The crowd went wild as the times were announced, and the team swarmed over the four members of the relay team when the final score was announced as being Andover 51, Exeter 24.

Conwell, Faurot, Relay Team L. Catlett Set Records As Blue Maul Exeter Mermen

By Kent McKamy

The Andover mermen topped off one of their best official seasons last Saturday with a resounding 51-24 win over Exeter. The best that the Exanians could do was to take two firsts against the powerful Blue's seven.

Andover's amazing relay team of Behn, Cornwell, Douglas, and Ogden again startled the on lookers by whipping two seconds off their previous best time, to finish with a time only a scant tenth of a second from the world's secondary school record.

Exeter did fairly well in the 50-yard dash, taking second behind the Blue's Stu Ogden. Ogden, who won with a 24.6, did not do his best time of the season, but nevertheless kept in front of the Red's Dyer all the way. Finishing a hardly discernable 1/20 of a second behind Dyer, was Co-captain Ralph Douglas, who turned in one of his best times of the year. Both Douglas and Ogden led the Red's two offerings into the turn, but Dyer picked up a little to nose Douglas. Ogden, thus far undefeated except by Gideonse of Yale, has turned in excellent times all year, and is expected to do well in the coming interscholastics.

Exeter's one flickering hoped turned up in the 100-yard breaststroke in the form of their captain, Sigo Falk. The big breaststroker was expected to win this event, and in doing so, he broke the pool record the Andover-Exeter record, and probably most important, the national interscholastic record. His time for this event was 1:01.5. Hoadley of the Red showed up very well against his teammate, and took second ahead of John Mason. Mason, who undoubltedly swam his best race of the season, was outclassed by Falk, but in spite of the odds, kept driving all the way to the wall. He gained on Hoadley on the last lap, for the Red's entry obviously tired at the end of the third lap, while Mason kept a steady, but nontheless pushing pace all the way.

Although Coach Dake called his shots perfectly all afternoon, probably the best one came in the 200-yard freestyle. Rumor had it that Cornwell was to swim in the grueling event, but when Ted Probert's name followed Johnny Graf's over the loudspeaker, a murmur went through the crowd. The two Andover choices had the race clinched on the 50, where both Probert and Graf led Exeter's single entry, Ottaway, by half a body's length. Graf came through with one of his better times of the year, a 2:08.6, to clinch the race. Probert, swimming his best race of the season, came in an easy second, with open water between him and Ottaway. Probert's time, though unofficial, nevertheless was easily three seconds under his best time up to that point. Graf kept up his usually smooth and powerful stroke, and glided easily into first place. His 2:08.6 was his best official time of the year, although his time trials have been a little faster.

Charley Faurot proceeded to break his own pool record in the 100-yard backstroke, with his best time of the season, a 1:02.7. Faurot took an easy first, but surprised no one until his time was announced. He was expected to win the event, but his spectacular time had the crowd on its feet. Neal McCorvie finished second, but was disqualified because of an illegal

It pleases this editor in particular that there was one team this term which has performed in much the same way as the football team did in the fall — the swimming team of Rocky Dake. This is certainly no discredit to the others. Competition furnished by freshmen to the basketball team, wrestlers, track team, puckmen has been very stiff. A few breaks one way could have given them all excellent seasons.

It can be said, however, that the swimmers have distinguished themselves admirably. Their season is not over yet; moreover, they will be underdogs in the Interscholastics to a strong Williston team, a star-studded squad from a little school. But their win over Exeter should serve as an excellent reminder to a good regular season, theoretically, an unbeaten season, as one generally regards Yale as totally unbeatable.

Charlie Faurot's showing in the 110-yard backstroke at 1:02.7 puts him in contention for number one National Prep honors. His time is a mere two and two-tenths seconds from Dick Thoman's school record. Dan Cornwell is in the same position; Cornwell, however, managed to break Thoman's school record, the A-E mark, and his own pool record of 54.5 in the 100 by 1.3 seconds.

"Twink" Catlett looms as the hottest diving prospect in many years at P.A. He broke his own pool record and fell short of Lopez's 67.4 points set at Dartmouth by three points. The 200-yard free-style relay proved a fitting climax (the best of a number of cliches for a "nice ending"). Pete Behn's 24.5 first lap was sensational, and "splits", all of which were under 24 seconds, by Cornwell, Douglas, and Ogden, proved to be the factors in garnering a time of 1:34.6, breaking all pool, A-E, and school marks but falling one-tenth of a second short of the national record.

Andover Mermen Swamp Exeter as Five Records Fall

ANDOVER, Feb. 28—Five pool records were shattered, and one national record set as Andover swamped Exeter's natators here today, 51-24, in the 34th annual clash.

Falk of Exeter clipped one-tenth of a second off the prep school record with 1:01.5 in the 100-yard breast stroke. In the 200-yard relay, the Andover team of Pete Behn, Dan Cornwell, Ralph Douglas and Stu Ogden, clipped their own record for the third time this season, coming within one-tenth of a second of the national record, with a 1:34.6 effort.

Pool records were registered by Charlie Faurot in the 100-yard backstroke, Dan Cornwell in the 100-yard free style, and Twink Catlett in the dive to crush the Red.

YALE GAME

The baseball team managed one outside workout on the main diamond, but because of the condition of the outfield, which had been reduced to an oversized mudpie, was forced to transfer their Saturday's contest with the Yale Frosh to New Haven.

The baseball team must undoubtedly be convinced by this time that the weatherman is an Exeter grad. Taking the long ride to New Haven to escape the miserable Massachusetts weather, they arrived only to find it drizzling steadily at Yale. The rain ceased long enough for the two squads to play five innings of good ball, ending in a scoreless tie. Coach Follansbee sent Dick Smith to the mound, and he turned in a sparkling three-hit performance for the whole five frames. In trouble only in the second inning, Dick gave up three singles, two walks, and whiffed six Elis. In that second inning, after filling the bases with only one man retired, Dick got former Exonian hurler Dave Ready on strikes, and then got lead-off man Joe Wennik, P.A., '52 captain, to lunge at a beautiful change of pace for the third strike to end the only Eli threat. Ready was equally stingy in the base-hit department, yielding hits only to Randy Heimer and Dave Bowman. The Blue never mustered a serious threat, but the play in all departments, especially in the infield, where Captain Bob Stevenson and Dick Starratt came up with some fine plays, was most encouraging to the Andover coaches. In the first of the sixth the rain increased, and the game was halted at this point. Facing rugged opposition, the Blue squared off against the New Hampshire Frosh this afternoon for their second encounter with college freshmen opposition in five days.

Smith Spins Three Hitter At Yale, As Blue, Elis Battle To Tie In Rain-shortened Tilt

Their first game having been postponed because of snow, the Flopmen finally opened the season against Yale, only to be rained out with no score at the end of five innings.

Upper Dick Smith, pitching for Andover, gave up only three hits and two walks, striking out six Eli batsmen. Ready, pitching against the Blue, equaled Smith's performance, giving up two hits and no walks while striking out three. Joe Wennik and Jack Logan respectively, more familiar in P. A. uniforms were seen batting first and fifth for the powerful Elis. Wennik captained one of P. A.'s best teams to a record of nine wins, four losses.

The game was a pitcher's duel all the way. Frank Palumbo, who played an excellent game throughout for Andover, struck out. Then Captain Stevenson and short-stop Starratt both grounded out. Wennik started Yale off with a hit, but Smith recovered from this initial blow to put the next three men down in order. Starting off the second frame for Andover, Heimer reached first on an error. Lamontagne then hit into a fielder's choice, forcing Heimer out at second. Although Lamontagne later reached second on a passed ball, Ready struck out the rest of the side to end Andover's chances of scoring.

Tight Spot

Probably the most tense part of the game was the last of the second. Smith walked the first two men and the third singled to load the bases with no outs. Then Pruett hit into a fielder's choice, leaving the bases full with one away. Having regained his control, Smith proceeded to escape from a tight position by striking out the next two batters in succession.

In the third inning the Blue batters were unable to put the ball out of the infield. Agee, leading off for Andover, slammed the ball into the first baseman. Smith and Palumbo were thrown out on successive grounders to second base. In the last of the third Smith again held Yale scoreless, putting the side down in order.

Heimer Hits

In the fourth frame Andover got its first hit when Heimer looped the ball into center field for a single. However, Ready put the Blue out in short order, and Heimer was unable to score. Although Adams of Yale reached second on a two base error, Smith held the Elis scoreless in the last of the fourth.

Bowman opened the fifth for Andover with a single to center. Sharp following him, grounded to the pitcher who threw Bowman out at second. Agee grounded out, third to first; and Smith popped up to the catcher to put the side out. In the last of the fifth, Ready slashed a single to left. However, Smith, with his amazing control, put down the next three men in order. At this time the rain began, and the umpires were forced to call the game with the final score reading 0-0.

Varsity Baseball Team Drops Game To New Hampshire 3-0; Heimer Stars On Mound

Last Wednesday the Andover baseball team opened their home season by losing to the U.N.H. Frosh, 3-0, in a game marred by several defensive miscues.

The brightest spot in the whole game for P.A. was the brilliant pitching of Randy Heimer, who, in the six innings that he hurled, fanned fourteen men and gave up only two hits.

Sloppy Play

The Blue's sloppy play was evident in the very first inning. Heimer struck out the first man, but catcher Bill Agee dropped the third strike and tossed an easy throw over the first baseman's head. This runner then stole second base, but fortunately Heimer picked him off on a beautiful play to the shortstop, Dick Starratt. Heimer proceeded to whiff the 2nd batter, but Agee again dropped the ball and when the next man walked, Heimer found runners on first and second. Then he bore down and fanned the next two men to end the inning and to gain the dubious honor of striking out four men in one inning.

In the P.A. half of the first, Frank Palumbo grounded out, second to first, Capt. Stevenson walked, and Starratt forced him at second. Heimer then singled Starratt to third, but Ray Lamontagne grounded out to end the Blue threat.

Heimer Fans Nine

The next three and one-half innings passed uneventfully with Heimer fanning nine men and with both the Flopmen and the Frosh getting only one man on base each inning. But in the botton half of the fifth, after Clavel had popped out to first, P.A. mustered its only real threat of the game. Lower Bill Whittlesey, who had replaced Agee behind the plate, reached first on an error by the third baseman.

Unfortunately, the first baseman was injured on the play and had to leave the game. Then Palumbo doubled to center, sending Whittlesey to third and setting up what looked like a sure score. Seconds later, Stevenson lined a hard drive into the hole for what seemed to be a base hit, but the shortstop made a great leaping catch of the liner, and when Starratt grounded to third, the threat was over.

Finally, in the top half of the sixth, a single, a walk, and a sacrifice set the stage for the game-winning runs. With these runners on second and third, an error by Starratt let in two tallies which proved enough to win the game.

Heimer retired the side on a strikeout and a ground ball, but that was all for Randy, and he was replaced by Dick Smith, who finished up the game by fanning five, walking two, and giving up two hits.

Brown '54 Dumps Blue, 10-3; Many Foe Runs Unearned As Defensive Miscues Hurt P. A.

The varsity baseball team fell to defeat for the second successive time, 10-3, last Wednesday, losing to a well-balanced Brown Freshmen team. The Blue, committing two errors and five passed balls, displayed a poor fielding game, which may have been the principal reason for Andover's defeat.

Although the P.A. team lost by a wide margin, they were outhit only 9 to 8. However, the key to the loss was in the two defensive miscues which resulted in four runs and set up another. Also significant in the defeat were four passed balls which led to several more Brown tallies.

Palumbo Stars

Outstanding in the P.A. cause was Frank Palumbo, who turned in a flawless game at second base and got a double, a single, and a walk, scoring one run and driving in another. However, hitting honors must go to Campbell of Brown who got two hits and scored three runs in his three times at bat.

Tom Houston, Fran Seery, and Al Blanchard, who, over the last six frames, allowed only one run and five hits, showed up well on the mound.

Brown Scores Early

The Brown scoring came in spurts, as they tallied five runs in the first and four more in the third.

In the first, the lead off man walked, stole second, and scored on a long triple to center. The next man, Thomas, reached first on an error by Heimer, the second run tallying on the play, and then stole second. Campbell, Brown's big first baseman, then walked, and he and Thomas advanced on a passed ball and scored on a single by Rego who advanced to second. Rego then scored on another passed ball to finish the Brown explosion.

Brown Wraps it Up

In the third stanza, Brown wrapped up the game with four more runs, and Campbell was once again Brown's big gun as he opened up with a single and later scored after some alert baserunning. The last three Brown scores were direct results of Heimer's error in right field and his subsequent bad throw to third base.

Blue Tallies

The Blue managed to push across two tallies in the bottom of the sixth as Dave Bowman started it off with a single to right. Houston then forced Dave at second, but Tom went to second on a passed ball and scored on a single by Bill Whittlesey Bill went to third on the throw to the plate, and Palumbo then finished the scoring as he drove in Whit with a long double to center.

After this scoring outburst, P.A. could not tally again until the ninth when Palumbo walked and went to second as Capt. Stevenson followed suit.

Then, after a Starratt strikeout, Heimer reached first to load the bases when the catcher dropped his third strike. Ray Lamontagne then drove in Palumbo on a fielder's choice as Brown missed an attempted double play. Dave Bowman ended the game, grounding out, second to first.

BASEBALL GAME ? ? ?

Rained out again on the previous Saturday, the baseball team went into last Wednesday's contest with Huntington having completed only two games out of a scheduled six. In their first two losses, the squad seemed to be lacking in two departments: catching and hitting. Coach Follansbee has three potentially good catchers in Bill Agee, "Whit" Whittlesey, and Bobby Clarke, but rain has prevented them from gaining game experience. Second baseman Frank Palumbo has been the only consistent hitter up until this time. The almost incessant rain has set the progress of the squad back a good two weeks. Both of these departments should surely improve as soon as the diamondmen begin to play regularly. How about it weatherman? Give'em a break! !

Baseball Squad Wins First Game Behind Smith's 4 Hit Ball; Defeats Huntington 6-1

Behind the steady four-hit pitching of Dick Smith, the Andover baseball squad notched a 6-1 triumph, for its first victory of the season. In hot water only twice throughout the whole game, Dick yielded hits in only two innings and breezed the third strike past fourteen of the visiting batsmen.

However, the most encouraging aspect of the contest was the fielding and hitting exhibited by the Blue. The infield was flawless except for a harmless second inning error and looked considerably improved over last week's meeting with the Brown Frosh.

Clutch Single

The Blue went right to work in the first inning, and picked up a pair of unearned scores. After Frank Palumbo was safe on an error and had stolen second, Bob Stevenson rapped a grounder to third, and the Huntington third sacker caught Palumbo in a trap between second and third. However, the trap backfired when the third baseman's throw caromed off Frank's foot and left the Blue men at the last two stations.

Dick Starratt then dumped a line single into center, and two runs scampered across for the Blue. The next three men, could manage only a soft fly to the outfield, and the side was retired.

Visitors Score

After holding the visitors hitless for three innings, and retiring the side on strikes in the top of the third, Dick Smith was touched for two hits and the only run of the afternoon for Huntington in the fourth. Two safeties, a sacrifice and an infield out combined to give them their one run for the day. Following this, Dick was never in trouble until they reached him for their last two hits in the bame in the sixth. Dick bore down and whistled a third strike past the Huntington first sacker to squelch the threat.

The Blue had meanwhile built up more of a cushion for Dick by getting a pair of insurance runs in the third. Palumbo led off with a single, his fifth hit in the three games. Stevenson dumped a perfect bunt and the throw, which was just a trifle high, sailed into right field, allowing Frank to come all the way home, and Stevenson to leg it all the way to the hot corner. Dick Starrett came through with a long fly to left, and the Blue took a 4-0 lead.

They picked up one more in the sixth when Ray Lamontagne doubled for his second hit of the day and moved the rest of the distance on two infield outs. They added another in the eighth just for good measure: Heimer walked and Lamontagne followed suit, moving Randy to second. Both advanced on Dave Bowman's scratch hit, and then Randy dazzled the crowd by racing towards the plate and beating the pitch for a theft of home. That ended the scoring for the day, and the three batters in the ninth might just as well have stayed on the bench. Just to put a good finish on a fine performance, Dick Smith made the last Huntington batter fan the breeze for his fourteenth strikeout victim, giving Flop's boys their initial triumph of the campaign.

Tufts Frosh Are Victims As Seery, Blanchard, Smith Hurl Baseball Team To 6-4 Win

Coach Follansbee's diamondmen carried off their second consecutive victory of the season, 6-4 against the Tufts Freshmen last Saturday.

The P.A. team played well and showed considerable infield ability. Both Fran Seery and Al Blanchard pitched well but were drained of their strength by the oppressive heat. Dick Smith had to come in to finish the ninth.

In the first inning Seery put the Tufts men away without mishap. Palumbo then walked, but the side was retired before he could come home. The second and third innings were uneventful with nine consecutive men put out and Andover picking up two walks in the bottom half of the third.

TUFTS SCORES

Tufts opened the fourth inning with a triple, the first of their five hits. The second Tufts batter got a single, which sent the first man home. Seery then quickly retired the side.

Stevenson led off with a walk and Starratt sacrificed him to second. Heimer walked and Lamontagne grounded to first to fill the bases. Bowman clouted the ball to center field for a single and Stevenson and Heimer came home making the score 2-1 for Andover. Mil Ryan, the next batter, was hit by a pitched ball, reloading the bases. Whittlesey bunted and was tagged out, but Lamontagne and Bowman scored. Seery smacked a deep fly and Ryan came home. Seery's fly being the third out, the end of the inning showed Andover ahead, 5-1.

NEW TUFTS PITCHER

The fifth inning was uneventful except for the fact that Tufts changed pitchers. Tufts broke through in the sixth when Seery gave up two walks and a grounder, on which a man scored. After giving up another hit and two deep flies to left, which brought in two runs, Seery was replaced by Blanchard. The side was retired when the first man to face Al grounded out. In Andover's half of the sixth Bowman was put out of the game by a pitched ball which hit him in the upper part of his arm. When Lamontagne grounded out and Heimer and Ryan flied out, Andover again took the field.

TUFTS ERROR

Three Tufts men flied out in the seventh and Whittlesey started the ball rolling by getting to first on an error. Blanchard sacrificed him to second. After Palumbo flied out Stevenson hit to center and Whittlesey scored. Starrratt flied out to finished the inning.

In the eighth inning a Tufts man doubled but that was the only threat. In P.A.'s half of the eighth Heimer and Starratt singled and Poiner, substuting for Bowman, rolled a bunt along the third base line to load the bases. The advantage was lost, however, and the game went into the ninth with Andover leading, 6-4.

The lead-off man for Tufts grounded out but the next two singled and walked. Coach Follansbee decided not to take any chances and replaced Blanchard with Smith. Smith effectively squelched the threat and the game finished when a Tufts man was caught out at third base.

BASEBALL IMPROVES

With two straight victories under their belts the Blue sought their third triumph against Worcester this afternoon. The two brightest aspects of the diamond view are the improvements in the catching and fielding departments. The infield has committed only one miscue, a harmless one in the second inning of the Huntington game, in two encounters. Coach Follansbee has found a steady receiver in "Whit" Whittlesey to make that department somewhat secure. On the mound only Dick Smith has been effective in each of his outings. Dick turned in a four-hitter against Huntington and relieved in last Saturday's contest. The stickwork by the Blue hitters is still a little on the light side, but with such men as Stevenson, Lamontagne, Heimer, Palumbo, and Starratt, the power and clutch hitting should develop.

Varsity Diamondmen Trim Worcester; Smith, Bowman, Heimer Excel For Blue Team

Taking advantage of their opponent's errors, the varsity baseball team defeated Worcester Academy, 5-3, for its third consecutive victory of the season. A clutch double by by Blue star Randy Heimer and a brilliant catch by first baseman Dave Bowman highlighted the Blue victory, which also saw a marked improvement in the catching of young Lower Bill Whittlesey.

After Dick Smith set the visitors down 1-2-3 in the first, the Blue garnered three runs in their half of the opening frame. Palumbo walked, and Bob Stevenson reached first on an error. Heimer walked after Palumbo had been forced out at third. Lamontagne then forced Stevenson.

However, a break came when, on a wild throw, Lamontagne went to second with Starratt and Heimer crossing the plate. Bowman singled in Lamontagne to make the count 3-0.

The fourth run was added when Smith scored on a wild pitch in the bottom half of the second.

The third and fourth innings were marked by top defensive play on the part of Andover, as Bowman made a sensational running catch in short right field. Whittlesey also nabbed a man attempting to steal second.

No runs were scored until the fifth when the Red of Worcester tallied on an error by Bowman. Whittlesey errored in the sixth as Worcester crossed the plate again, but an inning later Andover scored its final marker of the day on a walk by Captain Stevenson and a double by the powerful Heimer.

Worcester scored once more in their half of the ninth inning.

Andover's Nine Trips Lawrence With Seven Hits

The varsity baseball team won its third game of the season last Wednesday, coming from behind in the last of the fifth to whip Lawrence Academy, 4-2. Tom Houston, Al Blanchard, and Dick Smith combined to limit Lawrence to four hits as compared with Andover's seven.

Lawrence scored in the first inning on two walks, a single, and two errors. This, however, was the extent of Lawrence's scoring.

LAWRENCE SWITCHES HURLERS

The Lawrence team switched hurlers in the bottom of the second, as the original pitcher Bickford went to right field. Outs by Heimer and Bowman sandwiched a single by Lamontagne, but Ryan flied out to close the inning.

Mil Ryan's spectacular shoestring catch in left field highlighted an uneventful fourth inning, as both pitchers continued to go unscathed. However, the Blue finally put some runners across the platter, when Blanchard walked, shortstop Frankie Palumbo singled, and Captain Bob Stevenson doubled Blanchard in. Dick Starratt doubled and Andover took over the lead which they never relinquished as Palumbo and Stevenson tallied. Starratt was picked off second, but Heimer singled and Bowman doubled to drive in Heimer.

The remainder of the game was scoreless for both sides. Dick Smith relieved Blanchard in the seventh, and held the opposition hitless.

Dick Smith Pitches Baseball Team To 3-1 Victory Against Dartmouth; Allows Five Hits

By Steve Clarkson

For the first time in four years P.A.'s varsity baseball team brought home a victory from Dartmough, bringing their pre-Exeter game record to 5 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. With Dick Smith chucking brilliantly for the total distance, the Blue conquered the freshmen by a score of 3-1 in a seven inning game at Hanover.

Smith, turning in a fine performance for the Blue team, racked up his third win in four starts. In the Saturday game he yielded five hits, including three singles and a double. The opponents' lone tally came in the 6th inning when a double by Beagle scored McKenzie, who had previously singled.

Van Steenberg, the home-team hurler, also pitched well, retiring twelve men and allowing only three hits. He tended to be a bit wild, however, and by combining walks with well-timed hits, the Blue scored runs in the first, second, and sixth innings,

PALUMBO SCORES

Palumbo, lead-off batter for Andover in the first, drew a walk and promptly stole second. Then, when Stevenson grounded out to short, he advanced to third and reached home on a passed ball. The following two batters, Starratt and Heimer, struck out. In the bottom half of the inning, the first two hitters flied out, but the third managed to hit safely into right field. He did not get past second, however, for Roth of the Green went down swinging for the third out.

gan with Ray Lamontagne lining a long drive to center for a clean single. Bowman followed with a base hit which the pitcher was not able to handle. Both runners advanced a base on an error by the catcher, and Ray eventually reached the plate on a wild pitch for the second run. Dartmouth then went down in one, two, three order.

Nothing of significance happened during either the third, fourth, or fifth innings, as both Smith and Van Steenberg pitched superbly, fanning nearly all who faced them. But in the sixth inning the situation became tense, as it was growing dark and the game was scheduled to end at 7:15. Frankie Palumbo again led off for P.A., drawing another base on balls. Captain Stevenson also walked, and Dick Starratt bunted safely. With the bases loaded, Randy Heimer hit to the pitcher, who caught him at first and Palumbo at home. "Steve", however, reached home. Lamontagne, the next in the line-up went down on strikes for the second time in a row.

SMITH RETIRES SIDE

After the Blue squad had taken the field, Becker, the Dartmouth captain, lined out to short but was followed by McKenzie, who lofted the ball into short center field for a hit. His teammate, Krol, popped to short center, but this time Lamontagne was under it. The next hit dropped short of Bowman, but Smith struck out the next man to retire the side.

Two Lettermen Return As Tennis Team Faces Rugged Schedule; Reindel Captain

This season's tennis team is well bolstered by two returning lettermen plus a number of players up from last year's J.V. team. Captain George Reindel, a Senior, and Uppers Bob Semple and Larry Sears will form the nucleus of Coach Banta's team.

Sears and Reindel both placed as high as five on last year's ladder. Last year's top four, Stuart, Sagebiel, West, and Purnell, graduated and probably will make their freshmen squads.

Up from JV and contending for places on the varsity, are Harry Curtis, Bob Cole and Elliot Vestner. Several new boys are reported to be good prospects. In this list are Seniors Mike Wood and Hank Holmes; Al Leavitt also has possibilities Lowers Byron, Jones, and Scobie are expected to offer keen competition for high positions on the ladder. Rumor has it that Junior Langley Keyes is outstanding and will be competing for a place on the ladder.

Hard Season

The Blue is up against tough competition. The first game is against Worcester on the 25th of April. Worcester's first two men are reported to be among the top in New England. On the 29th the team meets the Brown Frosh whom P. A. swamped last year. On May 2nd the team meets Deerfield who gave Andover a tough fight last year, but the Blue came out on top 5-4. St. Paul's , who fell to the Racquetmen last year, should be easy prey. Harvard Frosh, another away game, last year gave the Blue its first defeat and is expected to greet the Blue with a well balanced team. Karl Purnell of last year's squad is expected to be on the Frosh team. St. Mark's who were beaten 8-1 last year, may not be quite so difficult.

Exeter Match

The Exeter match, an all-day affair, will involve about thirty-five boys seeded on the ladder who will play the Exeter Varsity, JV, and All-Club. Exeter is expected to have an outstanding team this year. Two new boys placed first and second in the Fall Tennis Tournament at Exeter.

Interscholastics

On Friday and Saturday, the 15th and 16th of May, the team will be away at the Interscholastics. Last year's team placed second, behind Exeter.

MANAGER'S REPORT

Netmen Vanquish Brown Frosh, 9-0; Reindel Excellent

On a windy but otherwise beautiful Wednesday last week, the Varsity tennis team, sparked by number one man and Captain George Reindel, shut out the Brown Freshmen, 9-0. The netmen lost only one match the entire day, that by HankHolmes at the number five position.

The number one match was played by Captain Reindel who, overcoming an early nervousness, vvanquished his opponent, Nat Greene, 8-6 and 6-4. Reindel's lob was excellent as were his steady overhead shots as he played some of the best tennis of his P.A. career.

Number two man, Larry Sears had an easier time with rival Simpson. Using an accurate passing shot and an effective overhead, he pulled through with scores of 6-3 and 8-6.

Curtis, Semple Win

Harry Curtis, third on the squad, beat Brown's Sinclair, 6-2, in the first match and 8-6 in the second.

Bob Semple, concentrating on his opponent's backhand and often rushing the net, smoothly beat the twin brother of Curtis's adversary, Sinclair, 6-2 and 6-4.

In the final singles match, Upper Bob Cole, starting late and taking more time than usual, rampaged over his opponent, Elkins, 6-1 and 6-4.

Sears, Reindel Excellent

In doubles, also, P.A.'s superiority was quickly seen. The first match pitted Reindel and Sears against Greene and Simpson. There was much net play, fast and hard, and the Blue duo rarely made an error in the first set, committing none in the first games.

Next, Semple and Curtis walloped the two Sinclair twins, 6-4 and 8-6. None or the players, though, seemed to be in top form.

To end the day's playing, Holmes and Cole, rushing the net often, beat Easton and Elkins, 6-3, 6-3.

Reindel Excellent As Netmen Lose To St. Paul's, 7-2

The varsity tennis team met its first defeat of the current campaign, falling to an experienced St. Paul's squad, 7-2, last Wednesday on the victor's courts. Obviously hampered by the loss of Larry Sears, the netmen took their opponents to three sets in several cases; it appeared that the whole match might have gone either way.

The one bright spot in the day's competition was the superb play of Captain George Reindel, who was barely edged by St. Paul's highly-rated Pete Bostwick in the number one match. Bostwick has For some time been one of the top rankers in Eastern Tennis, but this seemingly made no difference to Reindel, who very nearly outlasted his opponent 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. Reindel displayed his usual accurate eye at the net, as well as lobbing effectively; Bostwick's overhead and backhand, were, however, too strong in the final set for the Andover star.

Captain Eddie Meyer downed Harry Curtis of the Blue in two quick sets, 6-1, 6-1, at the No. 2 spot. Curtis fought well but lacked efflperience and power which characterized the game of his much taller opponent. Curtis had trouble with Meyer's serve, but nevertheless managed to place a few winners of his own. The taller man's overhead proned much too devastating for the Andover player, however.

Upper Bob Semple at No. 3, was far off form and played poorly as he lost to the home team's Bill Breed, last year's No. 4 man. Semple's serve was ineffective for the first set as he tightened up after the first three games. Breed merely let the Blue player commit the errors as he went on to win, 6-1, 6-4. Semple began to "push" the ball and consequently found it hard to come to the net where his placements are usually scored.

Bob Cole and Hank Holmes, played 4 and 5 respectively, for the Blue, might have won easily and in fact had their opponents down one set in each match. Holme's man became more steady after the first two sets and Hank lost, 4-6, 8-6, 6-1. Cole found himself "pushing" the ball, and this was probably the cause of his downfall in the second set. His scores were 5-7, 6-3, 6-4.

Al Leavitt, at the number six position, was the Blue's only singles winner, as he downed his weaker opponent, by pure steadiness, 6-2, 6-3.

Playing together for the first time, the P.A. first doubles combination of Reindel and Semple lost to the reknowned duo of Bostwick and Meyer, 6-3, 6-4. The Blue team was unable to capitalize on a 4-2, 40-15 lead in the second set.

Reindel Wins Only Match As Harvard Bests Netmen, 8-1

The netmen lost to a strong Harvard Frosh team by a score of 8-1 at the victor's courts last Saturday.

The team was hinderd by a late and strenuous night at the Prom the night before, which proved to be a consequential factor where endurance was concerned. In general, the team lacked aggressiveness and energy.

Reindel Wins

George Reindel, playing in the number one position, won the only match for P.A. He played his usual good net game and was accurate in his shots, making few errors. His opponent, Brooks Harris, who was number one at Milton last year, had a weak backhand. By feeding the ball to Harris's backhand, Reindel managed to win, 6-1, 6-3.

Semple, Curtis Lose

Bob Semple lost to a strong Harvard player in the number two position, 6-2, 6-2. Heckshire, Semple's adversary, hit a strong flat ball that had very little spin but which was hard to handle effectively.

Harry Curtis lost to Conrad Fischer, a high-ranking mid-westerner and Michigan State Champ 6-2, 6-0. The score was not indicative of the match as Curtis and Fischer had many long, hard vollies. Fischer played number two at Deerfield last year.

Purnell Beats Cole

Bob Cole played Karl Purnell, an Andover grad who played number four on last year's Blue team. Purnell won the first set easily, 6-1, but Cole loosened up in the second set and made Purnell work to win, 8-6.

Hank Holmes's match was the only one that lasted three sets. Holmes took the first set, 6-4. He was able to control the ball through superior playing while feeding it to his opponent's weak backhand. In the second set, Kay, Holmes's opponent took the lead, but Holmes tied it up at 4-4. Holmes was unable to win another game and Kay won the set 6-4. Endurance proved to be the winning factor in the third set, as Holmes was completely worn out. Kay won the set and game, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Al Leavitt, playing in sixth position, lost his match to Harvard's Ellison.

Netmen Lose To St. Marks 5-4; Drop All Doubles

The tennis team, hampered by the recent loss of number four man Hank Holmes, succumbed to the St. Marks netmen, 5-4, for their third straight loss. The weakness was obviously in the doubles matches, shown by the fact that the Blue didn't win one match in this division. The team performed well in the single matches, winning four out of six, but the losses in the doubles were crippling.

Reindel Wins

Captain George Reindel displayed a tealent for analyzing his game and changing it to meet the weaknesses of his opponent. Reindel lost his first set, 6-3.

He played a conservative rallying game but was outplayed by the strong deep shots of Pete Moore. In the second set, after he realized he had to change his tactics, he played a forcing game, coming up to net at opportune moments. Moore's game fell apart under Reindel's new tactics, and Reindel took the next two sets, 6-1, 6-1.

Semple Loses

Bob Semple, in number two position, fell before the hard shots of high-ranking Texan Hayden Schilling. Ordinarilly Schilling plays in the number one spot, but he had lost to Moore in a challenge match. Semple managed to make Schilling play three sets to win, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2. The game was fast with many hard volleys, but Semple was unable to keep up the stiff pace of Schilling's game.

Curtis Triumphs

Harry Curtis trounced his opponent, 8-6, 6-3. Playing with a newly strung racket he was unable to win any of the first four games, but switching to his old racket which he had used for years, he finished off the set lossing only five more games in the match.

Bob Cole easily beat St. Mark's Maskins, 6-4, 6-3 outdriving his opponent throughout the match. Moving up into the number five place from the sixth which he usually occupies, Al Leavitt beat Keane in three sets, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2. Leavitt outlasted his opponent to take the last two sets easily.

Jack Holmes moved up from fourth man J.V. to play sixth man. Lacking the necessary experience, he fell to a stronger Gilmor of St. Mark's, 6-4, 6-3.

Exeter And St. Paul's Finish In Deadlock In Prep School Tennis; Blue Netmen Third

Highlighted by the upset victory of Exeter's Lang Smith and John Somerville in the doubles, the New England Interscholastics ended with Exeter and St. Paul's tied for first place with 32 points, Dummer in second with 20 points, and Andover third with 17 points. Pete Bostwick and Ed Meyer of St. Paul's, victors over Wilkins of Exeter and Hoehn of Hanover High School, respectively, will play the finals off this week.

All of P.A.'s players were eliminated in the fourth round of singles play and the quarter finals of the doubles. Harry Curtis, winner of two matches, was the victim of an unfortunate situation when he was forced to play the Blue's Bob Cole in the third round of singles competition. Cole subsequently won, but both displayed excellent tennis as the match went to three long sets.

Reindel lost to young 15-year-old Hoehn in the fourth round, 7-5, 6-3, after winning second and third round matches. Reindel had Hoehn 5-4, 30-0 in the first set, but the young phenomenon's steadiness was too much for the Blue captain. Hoehn played far better tennis than he did in trimming Ed Hudgins, 6-3, 6-4 in the following round.

Bob Semple, the Blue's no. 2 man, won two matches quite easily but ran up against no. 2 seeded, finalist and probably winner, Bostwick of St. Paul's in the fourth round. Semple lost, 6-1, 6-1, and although he played steady tennis, he could have done little against the experienced Bostwick.

Semple and Reindel won two matches and advanced to the quarter finals before falling, 6-3, 6-1, before eventual champs Smith and Somerville. Semple still lacks doubles experience, but both fought well against a powerful team.

Cole and Curtis also advanced to the quarters, but, down one set and up 2-1 in the second against Farrin and Hudgins of P.E.A., they graciously offered to default since Farrin's foot was bothering him badly, However, the Red duo subsequently defaulted the following day to Don and Dave Hicks of Governor Dummer.

Among the matches that stood out were Hoehn's two major victories over Reindel and Hudgins, Wilkin's victory over third seeded Dave Hicks, Peter Cox's win over fourth seeded Don Hicks, and Bob Cole's close three set loss to Wilkins of the Red in the fourth round.

TO THE EDITORS:

For four years I have observed sportsmanship and fair play in practice at Andover. It is absolutely essential for one to learn to give the other fellow an equal chance in every respect. In this light I think several incidents at this year's New England Interscholastic Tennis Tournament held at Exeter and run by men all connected with Exeter are highly interesting.

There were two special fatures connected with this year's draw. First, in a group of 64 players it is indeed surprising and unusual that two Andover boys should meet in the round of 32. You would think that the committee would have the foresight to notice such mistakes before play begins. The second special feature is interesting in respect to the first; this year there were four Exeter players in the quarterfinals, and not one Exeter boy found himself against a teammate.

Applause in any tennis tournament should be limited to clapping after the point is over as recognition of a winner's shot, not the loser's error. In this tourney, as several matches progressed there were diverse types of cheering, for the players were frequently applauded. I understand that one member of the Exeter team approached an official and requested that said official make an announcement to the crowd to correct the situation. He refused on the argument that the gallery wouldn't cease its applause anyway. And finally, when a neutral official says two contestants are poro sports for not showing up at a certain time when that certain time wasn't set, something is wrong, — perhaps the sportsmanship.

I am sorry I won't be here next year to see what treatment is meted to Andover or some other school.

Signed, George Reindel

Exeter Takes Title

A strong St. Paul's team, sparked by two top stars, Pete Boswick and Ed Meyer, tied "Coach" Percy Rodgers' Exeter tennis team to prevent the Red from annexing its fifteenth triumph in seventeen interscholastic meetings. Although the Exeter captain, Ed Hudgins, nursing an infected foot, fell by the wayside before the steady strokes of Dick Hoehn, son of the Dartmouth net tutor, the Exonians still had enough depth in their ranking stars to tie for top honors. Before disposing of Hudgins, Hoehn had sent Andover captain George Reindel out of action in two sets, 7-5, 6-3. Bob Semple and Bob Cole also fell in the round of sixteen, eliminating all Blue players from further competition.

Luck of the Draw ? ?

Besides being without the services of their number two and five men, Coach Banta's men were the recipients of a lousy break. With seventy-two netters remaining in the tournament, Bob Cole and Harry Curtis were matched for third round competition. It would be very wrong to say that it had deliberately been arranged that way, but the odds are very unlikely in a hat draw, if the drawing was done on that basis. No one is making any accusations, but it did look kind of strange, and severly damaged what little chance the Blue had of coming through with a strong showing.

Andover Netmen Win Second Match By Shading Milton; Third Doubles Decisive

The varsity tennis team overpowered the Milton netmen last Wednesday on the loser's courts, by the score of 5-4, as two new players experienced varsity play for the first time. Positions were left open by Curtis and Holmes who were unable to play.

The newcomers on the squad were Junior Langely Keyes, who played in the number five position, and Lower Mait Jones, who played at number six. Both players came up from the J.V. team.

REINDEL WINS EASILY

George Reindel won his match against Milton's Humphry Nichols to make his record four wins and one loss. The play of the Blue captain was far superior to that of Milton's number one man. Although the game was played on cement courts, Reindel won by a score of 6-4, 6-4.

Upper Bob Semple could not master the accented bounce of the cement courts and was unable to play up to his game. The match was close and could have gone either way but Semple took only the second set of the match losing 4-6, 9-7, 6-3.

COLE IS VICTOR

Bob Cole, in the number three spot, took three sets to beat his Milton opponent. In the first set Cole was unable to combat Cortesi's strong ground strokes and good serve. Cole improved considerably and won the next two sets with ease. The set score was 5-7, 6-2, 6-0.

Moving up to fourth place from sixth, Al Leavitt lost an extremely long first set which lasted thirty-two games. After the first set Leavitt was too tired to play effectively and he lost the second set to Perry, 6-2. He dropped the first, 17-15.

Langely Keyes moved up to the number five spot on varsity from second spot on J.V. Lacking varsity experience, he was unable to cope with the speed of Eberhard Faber, his Milton opponent, and he lost 6-4, 7-5.

Mait Jones, playing varsity for the first time, easily defeated McSweeney, 6-4, 8-6. Jones played one of the best matches displayed by a Blue player. McSweeny once played number one man on the Milton squad, but he lost a challenge match and has been moved down to number six position.

DOUBLES MATCHES

Bob Cole teamed up with George Reindel in the first doubles match. the Blue pair made short work of their Milton opponents, winning 6-2, 6-1. In the number two doubles Semple and Leavitt who had never played together were unable to coordinate well enough to withstand the onslaught of Perry and Marlow. The loss of this match left the score a 4-4 tie.

The deciding match was played by Keyes and Jones. They won the first set from Faber and Cortesi 6-4. Then the pair fell apart and were able to win only one game in the second set; however, they made a comeback in the third set and won 6-3.

ANY OUTSTANDING INCIDENTS DURING GAME:

P.A. Tennis Team Trounced By Far Superior Exonians

A highly outclassed Blue tennis team was shut out by a strong and well-balanced Exeter squad last Wednesday. The P. E. A. men were far superior to the Blue in almost every case. As proven by the 9-0 score, the Exeter squad was in a much higher class than the Blue.

George Reindel played one of the best players in New England, Ed Hudgins. This match was undoubtedly the best and the most exciting of the day, and Reindel did well in taking the first set from the man who had beaten Pete Bostwick, winner of the Interscholastics. Reindel played the best game of his career against Hudgins. Hudgins's play was characterized by his long hard drives, both backhand and forehand.

Taking advantage of Hudgins's every weak shot, George cross-courted, cut, and passed Hudgins enough to win the first set, 6-4. Although Hudgins came up to net where he was deadly, the Blue captain lobbed so effectively that Hudgins was unable to get to the ball. Ed came back in the second set to win 6-2. Reindel made some beautiful returns of hard overheads, but Hudgins was always there at net to put the ball away.

Every shot that Hudgins had time to retrieve was put away on a long drive into a remote corner. The third set started out evenly, but Hudgins won his serve in the fifth game to give him a lead. This was all he needed to win the set 6-4.

SEMPLE BEATEN BY FARRIN

Bob Semple played one of his best games in the second set of the season, but Jim Farrin was so far superior that the score was 6-2, 6-2. Semple, who was bothered by nervousness in the first set, aced the Red Upper three times, but Jim's all around play was excellent and outclassed Semple completely.

Bob Cole was overpowered 6-3, 6-1 by Stan Wilkins of Exeter. Cole handled the ball very well, lobbing over his opponent whenever he came to the net, but the Exeter Lower was very well versed in court tatics, and threw the Blue number three man for a definite loss.

Although Harry Curtis played a good first set against Tim Wilson, he lost it 8-6. He passed Wilson with accurate deep shots, and often hit into the corners for well-earned points. The match looked very close and could have gone either way until the first set was over. Curtis fell apart and could no longer play effectively against the experienced Exonian in the second set and lost 6-0.

Lower Mait Jones lost to Pete Cox of Exeter 6-1, 6-2. As Jones aptly put it, he "was playing like his grandmother." Cox's steadiness completely threw Jones off his game.

Hank Holmes played very well and took his match to three sets against Lang Smith. It was a fairly even match all the way and the three year Exeter veteran went all out to win, 6-3, 7-9, 6-3.

Reindel teamed up with Cole for the first doubles match against Exeter's Hudgins and Farrin. The net play in the match was tremendous with prolific lobbing by both sides. Hudgings and Farrin were obviously an experienced duo, and overpowered the Blue with a smashing net game. The Blue took the first set 6-4. Cole was very alert at net and played well. The long singles match which Reindel had just played obviously began to tell on him and by the end of the second set which the Blue lost, 6-0, George was ready to retire. In the third set the Blue gave the Red a run for their money, but lost 6-3.

In the second doubles match Blue men, Semple and Curtis, lost to an Exeter pair which outplayed them all the way to win 6-1, 6-0. The Red team consisted of Larry Smith and John Somerville, who won the Interscholastic doubles. In the third doubles, Mait Jones was paired with Hank Holmes and together they fell before their opponents 6-2, 6-4.

The J.V. match was just as unsuccessful as the varsity from the Andover point of view. The Exonians shut out the Blue 9-0 to complete the massacre. Joel Sharp played the longest match of the day stretching his game to three long sets.

Leavitt-Sommerville* 6-2, 6-1
Vestner-Ruddick* 7-5, 6-0
Keyes-Robinson* 6-1, 6-2
Lorenz- Hamm* 6-1, 6-2
Whittall-Wolf* 6-2, 6-1
Sharp-Custer* 8-6, 7-9, 7-5

RAIN HAMPERS NETMEN END WITH 2-4 MARK

The Andover tennis team, captained by George Reindel, did as well as could be expected, winning two matches and losing four. Playing some of the best players in the country, the netmen put up a good showing in all of their matches.

In the first match of the year, the Blue netmen easily overpowered the Brown Frosh 9-0. Reindel, Sears, Curtis, Semple, Cole, and Holmes all won their matches.

On May 6, the team went up to Concord to play St. Paul's. Pete Bostwick, winner of the Interscholastics, led his team to a 7-2 victory over the Blue. George Reindel brilliantly took the first set, 6-2, but he couldn't outlast Bostwick and lost the next two, 6-2, 6-3. Curtis and Semple both fell in two sets to their opponents, and Holmes in three, but Al Leavitt, in sixth position, won the only singles match for Andover in three sets.

On Prom Saturday, the Blue netmen were conquered by the Harvard Frosh, 8-1, at the Crimson courts. George Reindel took the only match, 6-1, 6-3.

The Blue lost a close match to St. Mark's on May 13, by a score of 5-4. Reindel won by changing tactics, in three sets over Moore, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1. Curtis and Cole went two sets, and Al Leavitt won in three, but Semple and a new arrival on varsity, Jack Holmes, lost.

A much changed squad faced the Milton team on May 20. Coach Banta brought up from J.V. Junior Langley Keyes to play number five and Lower Mait Jones to play number six. The new combination clicked, and the team brought home a 5-4 victory, with wins from Reindel, Cole, and Jones in the singles and from the pairs of Reindel and Cole, and Jones and Keyes in the doubles.

The Blue played host to a well-balanced Exeter team. The Red had lost only one match, and that to Deerfield. Reindel played the best match of his career against Ed Hudgins, who had beaten Bostwick, but could not stand up under the Exeter star's onslaught. Reindel took the first set, 6-4, but lost the next two, 6-2, 6-4, after a long hard battle. The deepness of the Exeter team completely overwhelmed the Blue, for they shut the Andover netmen out, 9-0.

The Blue took third in the Interscholastics behind Exeter and St. Paul's who tied for first and Governor Dummer who place second. The last of the Blue players were eliminated in the forth round.

Track Shellacs Brown 81-44; Field Events Strong As Bixby Wins Two; Snyder Take 100

Taking advantage of the first clear weather in several weeks, the Andover track team crushed the Brown Freshmen last Friday 81 2/3 - 44 2/3 in the first varsity competition on the cinders.

Co-captain Dick Golden won his specialty, the javelin, with a 157' 4 inch throw, and placed third in the discus.

Weightmen Excel

George Bixby threw the shot 48 feet, and the discus 126'9 inches to become Andover's only double winner. Stretch Clement, in his first season out for track, threw the shot 44'2 inches for a third place as 2nd went to McQuiness of Brown. Bill Sayad hurled the 12 lb. hammer 175' 2 inches, fourteen feet farther than teammate Pete Harpel, who has thrown 179' in practice, for first and second place in that event. Hagan of Brown was third, thirty feet behind Harpel.

Guggenheim Wins

Fred Guggenheim clipped two-tenths of a second off his Medford-Lowell meet time, and won the 120 yd. hurdles in 16.4 seconds. Andover's Roger Donald ran second with Jacobsmeyer of Brown third. Jack Eliassen, an ex-high jumper, increased Andover's lead with a 27.1 win in the 220 low hurdles. Fred Williams finished several yards behind Eliassen for second place, as Andover completely outclassed Brown's hurdlers.

Junior Steve Snyder, running on the cinders for the first time, continued his winning streak to four straight. Jacobsmeyer of Brown was second, with Andover's Duck Wadsworth third. The winning time was 10.4 seconds.

Brown didn't bring any pole vaulters, and an inter-squad competition developed for the nine automatic points. Dana Smith cleared 10' 6 to win on his first jumping outdoors. ,Duane Bruce took second six inches behind Dana, and Upper Steve Pendleton was third.

Dave Norris ran his best mile time outside in 4:54.3, yet finished second to Brown's Vanloon, who won both the mile and half-mile. Upper Pete Jaquith broke the five minute mark for the first time in finishing third with a 4:58 effort.

Ken Pruett cut more than a second off his Wednesday's time, but finished second behind Ise of Brown. Pruett's time was a credible 54.4 seconds. Tim Hogan equalled his best high school time by finishing a second behind Ken for third place.

The broad jump was Andover's weakest event. MacDonald leaped 19'10 inches, a foot behind the winning jump for a second place. John Scranton, P.A.'s top broad-jumper, utdoors for the first time, developed step trouble and fouled all of his jumps. Rosenberg and Ewing of Brown took first and third.

Brown's Jacobsmeyer placed in four events, including a win in the 220-yard dash. Andover's Ducky Wadsworth placed in his second race of the afternoon with a second. Mal Dole finished third. The winning time was 23.4 seconds.

Dave Craton, substituting for Co-captain Charlie Faurot, who expects to run next week for the first time after a head injury, ran a 2:11.3 half-mile for second place. Vanloon of Brown won, clocked at 2:09.8, and Orr of Brown was third. Craton expects to be back at his favorite distance, the mile, next week.

Clavel Wins

Pierre Clavel, in his first meet since winter, won the high jump with Nort Wright at 5' 4".

Field Events Pace Blue Over Northeastern; Wet Track Forces Runners Into Cage

The Blue Track team squeezed by the Northeastern Frosh last Saturday in an indoor-outdoor meet, by a 60-57 score. George Bixby led the scoring, taking nine points in the field events.

Bixby outdistanced teammate Ken Sharp by eight feet for a first in the discus. Berestecky was sixteen feet behind Bixby at 127'5", to give Northeastern a third in the event. Bixby also took second in the shot as the visitor's Caparella tossed only a quarter of an inch short of fifty-four feet. A half-inch behind George was Ken Sharp.

Outside the Cage, in a misty rain, Bixby took a third in the hammer, for the day's top performance, as Bill Sayad and Pete Harpel joined to give Andover a sweep in the event. Bill heaved the weight 168 feet.

Inside the Cage, Andover's ace high-hurdler, Fred Guggenheim, had little trouble in the forty-yard event, winning in five and a half seconds. Pendleton of Northeastern and Roger Donald of the Blue followed.

In the final heat of the forty-yard dash, Northeastern's Hefford led all the way. Steve Snyder took second and visitor Wickey, third.

Northeastern took its only sweep of the day in the 1000-yard run as Eopson, Camfot, and Ryan all took places.

Ryan and Camfot took first and second in the mile, with Dave Norris of the Blue third.

The 300-yard dash was won by Martin of Northeastern in 35.4 seconds. Al Boyer tied with the Red's Wickey for second.

Smith, Bruce, and Pendleton finished in that order in the pole vault with no competitors. Dana cleared 11'8".

John Scranton bettered nineteen feet in the broad jump, but fouled in so doing. Stan MacDonald won with a jump of eighteen feet, seven inches as Northeastern's Murphy and Pendleton took the remaining places.

Hefford of the Red led all the way in the 600, winning in 1:19.4. Tim Hogen and Charlie Faurot edged out Ken Pruett for second and third as no other visitor threatened.

Amoroso and Murphy of Northeastern tied at five feet, six inches in the high jump, with P.A.'s Maal and Wright tying for third. Pierre Clavel, who had previously cleared five foot, eight, dropped out at the five two mark.

In the final event, Co-captain Dick Golden won the javelin throw with Stretch Clement edging out visitor Murphy by a foot for second, producing the winning margin.

Dartmouth Trackmen Defeat Blue Thinclads, 77-48; Bixby, Sayad, Clement Perform Well

A powerful Dartmouth running machine handed Andover's trackmen their first defeat of the Spring season 77 1/3-48 2/3. It was a clear case of Andover's superior field events, overcome by Dartmouth's runners.

Weight Men Excel

Bill Sayad threw the hammer 179'6. inches to top teammate Pete Harpel as both placed in the same position for the third consecutive week. George Bixby was Andover's only double winner with a 48'1 inch heave in the shot-put, and a 128'9 Sharp placed in both events, placinch throw in the discus. Ken ing second in the shot, and third in the discus.

Clement Wins

Hayes Clement, throwing his second time in competition, hurled the javelin 153'6 inches to edge out teammate Dick Golden as Andover took the first two places in the javelin.

Dartmouth swept both the 100 and 220 yd. dashes with Chapman Bissel, and De Voto finishing in that order in both races. The winning times were 10.4 for the 100, and 22.7 in the 220.

Ken Pruett finished third in a fast 52.8 440 yd. run. Dartmouth took the first two places. The 880 was a repeat performance as Andover's running co-captain, Charlie Faurot finished third for Andover's only place.

Clark of Dartmouth won both the 120 high and 220 low huldles. Jack Eliassen ran second in the 220 and Fred Guggenheim finished second in the 120 as Dartmouth placed third in both events.

Dana Smith encountered probably his toughest compteition in the pole vault all year. Dana cleared 12' for the first time outdoors to tie Metzger of Dartmouth for second place. Buchanan of Dartmouth won at 12'6 inches.

Dave Craton ran a fast mile, but his 4:43 effort was only good for second place. Dartmouth finished first and third. Lower Ken Mac Donald leaped to a second place in the broad jump behind While, who jumped 19'11½ inches to win. Dartmouth placed third. Nort Wright and Pierre Clavel tied for second place in the high jump for Andover as Chapmen of Dartmouth won at 5'6 inches.

Tops 4 Class A Schools; Dispute Marks 220 Hurdles

By RALPH WHEELER

ANDOVER, May 16—Moses Brown School of Provi-, with a squad of only 13 boys, including a group nior classmen who arrived just a half hour before tart of the meet, provided a major upset by winning 4th annual New England Prep School track meet afternoon with a total of 42 points.

Host Andover had won the meet every year with xception of the second season when Exeter annexed hampionship. Moses Brown was one of the seven B schools in the competition so the Rhode Island ol took home the Class B and Class A plaques by ing both divisions.

was an unfortunatc oc- nce," said Coach Steve So- onc of the two directors meet, "but the coach mus his protest BEFORE the according to the rules. h Warren Howe, of Moses n, should have known that runner was not eligible for fastest heat, and Coach hin of Exeter should have sted before and not after race.

"As for Lovshin's argument at Moses Brown was not en- led to both trophies, the rule question is that a Class B hool can win both trophies, but Class A team cannot win the trophy. After all, the Class school is competing with the A schools so they are entilted o the A trophy, as well, if it outscores the bigger schools. Class A schools are those with an enrollment of over 300, and Class B under 300."

COOK SETS MARK IN BROAD JUMP

Coach Howe, now in his 28th year as coach at Moses Brown, said "You bet I'm amazed at our victory. I figured we'd be lucky to get 10 points. After all, our kids filled up with tonic and ice cream yesterday, which was Father and Sonss day at the school. Then today our juniors took the college boards at Brown University from 9 to 30 so that we hardly had to shake our legs when we arrived here. How are you going to figure these things, anyhow?"

Cook's record-breaking broad jump of 23 feet smashed the mark of 22 ft. 7½ inches, made in last year's meet by Bud Stoddart of Andover.

Middlecoff Retai Palm Beach Lead

But Memphis Dentist Loses 8 F To Demaret Who Shoots 5 Sub F

By JOE LOONEY

WESTBURY, N. Y., May 16—The almost u dented assault on par continued today at the Brook Club where Cary Middlecoff retained his the 12th annual Palm Beach round-robin golf tour although he lost considerable ground to Jimmy D

Demeret, wearing a cerise-colored cap almost of an oxygen tent, toured the 6648-yard Long Isl out in 31-34—65, five under par, to pick up eigh on Middlecoff, who wasn't exactly in the duffer cl a 32-35—67.

BURKE THIRD, MANGRUP FOURTH

After 72 holes in a 90-hole tournament, Middlecoff has a plus point total of 35, one higher than Demaret. Jack Burke, Jr., is in third place with a plus 22 tally and Lloyd Mangrum fourth with a plus 20 score.

Anything can happen in this particular tournament, so there's no assurance that Middlecoff and Demaret will be in the two top positions when the final returns are tabulated tomorrow afternoon. Neither has an easy assignment for the windup round. Middlecoff will be competing against Sam Snead, Dave Douglas and Jim Ferrier. Demaret's opponents will be Burke, Julius Boros and Ted Kroll.

At one point in today's play, Demaret had wrested the lead from Middlecoff. In a foursome with Fiddlecoff, Tommy Bolt and Byron Nelson, Demaret had moved in front with a par four on the 350-yard 14th where Middlecoff went over par with a five.

The 32-year-old Memphis dentist won back three points, however, at the 500-yard 17th with a birdie four where Demaret, Nelson and Bolt posted fives.

Middlecoff preserved the lead with a par four on the 445-yard 18th hole, the same score turned in by Demaret, Nelson and Bolt.

It wouldn't be out of line to

Altogether, there ha 13 scores of 66 or lowe has been equalled or collectively 50 times b players in 64 attempts. the course is in perfect and a dead calm has for the first three day tournament. So mass seems to be the resu shots can be aimed righ pin.
